Future additions are expected.

System of Arrangement

Arranged to the container level.

Processing Information

Processed by Bancroft Library staff in 2007. Additions processed by Lisa Marie Monhoff in 2019 as part of a two-year NHPRC-funded project to process a range of archival collections relating to environmental movements in the West.

Organizational History

Founded in 1985 by Randy Hayes, Rainforest Action Network (RAN) is an environmental organization that campaigns for the preservation of rainforests and the rights of the indigenous peoples who live within those forests. See also:

http://ran.org/who_we_are/our_mission_history/

Scope and Content of Collection

Contains subject files for Rainforest Action Network campaigns, Rainforest Action Groups, Rainforest Action Network publications, and small quantities of correspondence and photographs. Prominent among the campaign files, is information pertaining to various oil companies, countries affected by rainforest logging, and the native U'Wa. The Rainforest Action Groups files contain information on local grassroots groups supporting RAN and materials on RAN campaigns against corporations that supported rainforest or old-growth logging. There are also several cartons of newspaper clippings and copies of RAN advertisements. Within the general subject files are folders of unorganized correspondence, called by the organization "constituent mail," and photographs of promotional events.

Sub-series 5.2. Tropical Timber Campaign 1980-2010

Language of Material: Includes Spanish, Portuguese and Japanese language materials.

Physical Description: Cartons 45-48; Carton 49, folders 1-30

Arrangement

Arranged hierarchically into subject files, regional, country and corporate campaign files, and then chronologically.

Scope and Contents

Contains documentation of the Tropical Timber Campaign including programs within the Tropical Timber Campaign umbrella: Protect-An-Acre, Amazonia, Mahogany is Murder and Mitsubishi boycott. Rainforest Action Network established the Protect-An-Acre program in 1993 to conserve and protect the world's rainforests and its inhabitants through communal land title funding, marking boundaries and supporting projects that promote ecological balance and strengthen indigenous rights. The Protect-An-Acre program includes projects in Central, North and South America, Africa and Southeast Asia including the Amazon (Amazonia) Program, Brazil Program, Llana Project, and the Mahogany is Murder campaign (encompassing Central and South America and Southeast Asia) and working for protection of the rights of the U'Wa (Columbia), Sarawak (Malaysia) and other indigenous groups. Contains information on campaigns against corporations logging and using tropical timber wood products for their business practice and products, such as lumber for movie sets, furniture makers (particularly the use of mahogany), disposable chopsticks, pencils and more. Companies targeted primarily were Burger King, Mitsubishi, Georgia-Pacific and Stone Container in Costa Rica. Includes correspondence from Jose Roberto "Beto" Borges of the Amazon campaign.

Sub-series 5.3. Old Growth Campaign 1981-2005

Physical Description: Carton 49, folders 31-40; Cartons 50-58

Arrangement

Arranged into subjects and campaigns relating to paper and pulp industry, religion and the environment, lumber retailers, company and contractor files, Home Depot campaign, Boise Cascade campaign, Maxxam / Headwaters campaign and miscellaneous British Columbia campaigns.

Scope and Contents

Includes documentation on the Old Growth Campaign to preserve endangered temperate rainforests, including redwoods, through halting clearcut logging and illegal logging practices. Its goal is to promote sustainable and democratic economies, and protect indigenous rights and is thus global in its content. Contains direct action organizing documentation and lobbying against corporations including Boise Cascade, Home Depot, KaiserTech, MacMillan Bloedel, Maxxam, Palco and Mitsubishi. Contains campaigns to protect Headwaters Forest in Northern California and the Great Bear Rainforest in British Columbia, Canada. Includes information on paper products and companies that use paper products (bathroom tissue, newspapers, greeting cards, phone books and photocopy paper) and paper alternatives (such as kenaf and hemp), lumber (primarily plywood) and lumber yard protests.

Sub-series 5.4. Global Finance Campaign 1986-2010*Physical Description: Cartons 59-62Arrangement

Arranged into topics of international bank and investments groups, Canadian financial institutional investment, subject files, civic and state resolutions for divestment and against rainforest destruction, African campaigns, Freedom from Oil campaign, the Agribusiness campaign and news articles.

Scope and Contents

Contains documentation on Rainforest Action Network's Global Finance Campaign to end the funding of environmentally, economically and socially destructive projects around the world in favor of fair trade business practices. Includes global standards and international agreements with organizations working toward sustainable forest stewardship and on the issue of logging on public lands. Primarily focuses on pressuring the World Bank, International Monetary Fund, and global financial institutions like Citigroup, Toronto Dominion (TD Financial) and Wells Fargo to reform their investment and loan practices. Also includes documentation on government policy and corporate campaigns to end Old Growth logging through corporate boycott. Includes materials on the Alliance for Sustainable Jobs and the Environment and the World Trade Organization (W.T.O.) meetings and protests in Seattle, Washington in November 1999. Contains documentation on the campaign against rainforest agribusiness and biofuels, primarily lobbying the corporations of Cargill, Archer Daniels Midland and Bunge on their practices in South American and Indonesian rain forests. Includes information on soy crop and palm oil related issues in agribusiness. The Freedom From Oil / Jumpstart Ford Campaign group of records includes materials on Rainforest Action Network's campaign to stop global climate change, end America's dependence on oil and reduce oil related conflicts. Contains documentation regarding lobbying the auto industry to design more fuel efficient vehicles and eliminate vehicle greenhouse gas emissions and work with oil companies. Corporate campaign files include numerous U.S. and Canadian based financial institutions. Includes news articles, clippings, magazines and a cartoon file about global finance, old growth and tropical timber direct action campaigns, demonstrations and coverage of other Rainforest Action Network programs.
