Acquisition Information

Received as part of the Edmund G. Brown papers (BANC MSS 68/90), as a gift from Brown, December 1967.

Processing Information

Original labeled folders and envelopes have been retained with their original content whenever possible, even if the folder contains just one item. When an archival folder is used, the original labeled folder or envelope has been retained with the contents. Contents of a labeled folder that are clearly a different subject have been removed and foldered elsewhere. Dates on original folders are often dates of correspondence, not dates the photographs were taken.

Approximate dates of undated photographs are based on Brown's apparent age, the style of his eye glasses, and the style of Bernice Brown's hair. During the 1958 campaign, Edmund G. Brown's glasses are wire rimmed at bottom of lens. When he is sworn in as governor in January 1959, he is wearing eye glasses that are dark with a largish decorative metal pieces at the hinge and light decorative sides. Around 1962 his eye glass frames are a solid dark color with small decorative metal pieces at the hinge.

Biographical Information

Edmund G. Brown was born in San Francisco on April 21, 1905, to Ida and Edmund Joseph Brown. He married Bernice Layne in 1930 and they had four children: Barbara Brown [Casey] (born July 13, 1931), Cynthia Brown [Kelly] (born October 19, 1933), Edmund Gerald "Jerry" Brown, Jr. (born April 7, 1938), Kathleen Lynn Brown (born September 25, 1945).

After graduating from law school in 1927, he started his political career by unsuccessfully running for several political positions. He won the race for District Attorney of San Francisco in 1943, a position which he served for seven years. In 1950, he was elected as Attorney General of California, and held that position until he successfully ran for Governor of California in 1958.

Major policies enacted during his two terms as governor, from 1959 to 1967, included the California Master Plan for Higher Education, the Fair Employment Practices Act (FEPA), the Rumford Fair Housing Act, the California State Water Project and other infrastructure projects.

After his political career, he remained in the public eye through public appearances and speaking engagements. In 1980 he started the Edmund G. "Pat" Brown Institute of Government Affairs, which in 1987 became the Edmund G. "Pat" Brown Institute of Public Affairs, a non- partisan public policy center.

Edmund G. Brown died on February 16, 1996, in Beverly Hills, California.

Scope and Content of Collection

Collection contains images related to Edmund G. ("Pat") Brown's political and public career, as well as his personal life and family. It includes portraits, press photographs, snapshots and some political cartoons about Pat Brown. The bulk of the images are of Pat Brown during his two terms as Governor of California, the election campaigns leading to the governorship, and of conferences of the Edmund G. "Pat" Brown Institute of Public Affairs.

Approximately 2200 photographic prints, approximately 221 negatives, 15 transparencies, 22 political cartoons and 1 drawing.

Numerous portraits (approximately 230) of Edmund G. Brown were transferred to the Bancroft Library Portrait File, including 24 oversized items shelved as ffPOR. The majority were received with the Brown papers and added to the Portrait File soon after the collection was acquired by the library.

Physical Description: carton 1, folder 17-carton 5, folder 6; AX box 1, folders 6-10, PIC box 1; oversize folder B; ffALB; NEG box 1

Arrangement

Arranged chronologically, from general to specific dates.

Scope and Content Note

Photographs of Edmund G. Brown's career as a District Attorney, Attorney General and Governor of California, and later public career. These images cover his political campaigns, public appearances, speaking engagements, conferences, outings and parties that seem to be in the public eye. Bulk of the images are of Pat Brown during his two terms as Governor of California, the election campaigns leading to the governorship, and of Edmund G. "Pat" Brown Institute of Public Affairs conferences. Includes press photos, and some snapshots, of Brown meeting with political figures, signing bills, visiting constituents and traveling to various events in California. Also includes group portraits of colleagues, and large birthday galas held for Edmund G. Brown later in his life. Some event images are not clearly public or private. In ambiguous cases, the images were filed here with material pertaining to his career.
