Biography/Administrative History
Alternate name spelling and title is Annie Belle Picher, Director, Stone Boundary League. Picher sought for a Congressional memorial in the interest of establishing historic, interstate, boundary stones on the transcontinental, federal highways, reaching the Pacific through Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Texas and California. She also had a project for the marking of "El Camino Real".

Scope and Content of Collection
Scrapbooks about "California in Harpers Magazine," "California Missions as Architecture" and other loose documents related to California mission culture. One scrapbook "El Camino Real" dated 1900, shown by the Pasadena Exhibition Association, includes photographs of the last families of the San Gabriel Mission. Notable are several missal parchments of hymns printed in Latin. See Also: "Printed Materials Filed By Accession Number." Circa 1892-1900, undated
