Publication Rights
The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Acquisition Information
Collection was received as a gift from Stan Gould.
Scope and Content of Collection
Gould's papers include documents produced during his tenure on the Chamber of Commerce of San Jose and the Guadalupe River Park Task Force, including correspondence, official reports, architectural plans and maps, and public meeting agendas and minutes. The most extensive information documents the Guadalupe River Park project, tracing its beginning as a flood control project, through the proposals for redevelopment of the area, to the final Interim Feasibility Report from the Army Corps of Engineers. The collection illustrates the push for revitalization of San Jose during the 1970s and 1980s through the Fox California Theater renovation, Julian/Stockton area redevelopment, and Downtown San Jose redevelopment. Also included are minutes from the Redevelopment Agency of San Jose meetings, and records from the Rotary Club of San Jose's museum outreach program.
