Location of Materials: Collection is stored onsite.

Language of Materials: Collection materials are primarily in English.

Abstract: The collection comprises a wide variety of ephemera pertaining to printing practice, culture, and history in the Western Hemisphere. Dating from 1802 to 2013, the collection includes ephemera created by or relating to booksellers, printers, lithographers, stationers, engravers, publishers, type designers, book designers, bookbinders, artists, illustrators, typographers, librarians, newspaper editors, and book collectors; bookselling and bookstores, including new, used, rare and antiquarian books; printing, printing presses, printing history, and printing equipment and supplies; lithography; type and type-founding; bookbinding; newspaper publishing; and graphic design. Types of ephemera include advertisements, announcements, annual reports, brochures, clippings, invitations, trade catalogs, newspapers, programs, promotional materials, prospectuses, broadsides, greeting cards, bookmarks, fliers, business cards, pamphlets, newsletters, price lists, bookplates, periodicals, posters, receipts, obituaries, direct mail advertising, book catalogs, and type specimens. Materials printed by members of Moxon Chappel, a San Francisco-area group of private press printers, are extensive.

Access

Accruals

Additions to the collection are ongoing.

Processing Information

Re-processed by California Historical Society staff in 2010-2013.

System of Arrangement

Collection files are arranged in alphabetical order by name of press, printer, company, event, title, individual, or topic. Ephemera created by a press or printer for the Moxon Chappel group is filed under the name of that press or printer in a separate folder containing Moxon Chappel materials.

Oversized ephemera is listed separately, also in alphabetical order. Very large oversized materials are stored separately in a folder.

Scope and Contents

The collection comprises a wide variety of ephemera pertaining to printing practice, culture, and history in the Western Hemisphere. Dating from 1802 to 2013, the collection includes ephemera created by or relating to booksellers, printers, lithographers, stationers, engravers, publishers, type designers, book designers, bookbinders, artists, illustrators, typographers, librarians, newspaper editors, and book collectors; bookselling and bookstores, including new, used, rare and antiquarian books; printing, printing presses, printing history, and printing equipment and supplies; lithography; type and type-founding; bookbinding; newspaper publishing; and graphic design. Types of ephemera include advertisements, announcements, annual reports, brochures, clippings, invitations, trade catalogs, newspapers, programs, promotional materials, prospectuses, broadsides, greeting cards, bookmarks, fliers, business cards, pamphlets, newsletters, price lists, bookplates, periodicals, posters, receipts, obituaries, direct mail advertising, book catalogs, and type specimens.

The collection contains significant quantities of ephemera created by San Francisco booksellers, stationers, printers, and presses in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century; ephemera related to university libraries and presses in the United States; and examples of early California newspapers, including small town and foreign language newspapers. There are significant holdings of ephemera related to printers Lawton and Alfred Kennedy and Robert and Edwin Grabhorn, and associations such as the Book Club of California and the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen, Inc., and its local and regional chapters. Materials printed by members of Moxon Chappel, a San Francisco-area group of private press printers, are also extensive.
