Alumni Voice 1945-1986

Abstract: Alumni Voice was founded in 1945 and maintained until 1986. It was a semiannual magazine publication sent to alumni of Pepperdine in an effort to foster a stronger community among university alumni and their ties to Pepperdine, because members of the alumni foundation felt that they had not lived up to George Pepperdine's original vision of an alumni community.

Oasis/Currents 1966-2016

Abstract: Pepperdine's student magazine was published under the name Oasis from its founding in 1966 until 1991, when it was renamed Currents. Written and edited entirely by undergraduate students, it provides in-depth coverage of campus and national news, contemporary social issues, and student literature and art, with a particular focus on photography. Oasis was originally published once per school year, but became a biannual in 1983, with separate issues for the fall and spring semesters. Currents is still in publication as a biannual today.

Scope and Content
The Oasis was renamed the Currents magazine in the Fall of 1991. From that point on, the publication shifted from yearly to seasonal.

On Campus 1983-1991
Abstract: "On Campus" was published monthly from 1982 to 1992, even during the summer months. The publications were short, no more than four pages at the largest, and provided updates on the events and developmental projects on campus. These publications were probably directed at university faculty, although students would have also had access to them.

On the Beam: Dedicated to the Young Pepperdiners in Service 1943-1946

Abstract: Published from 1943-1946, "On the Beam: Dedicated to the Young Pepperdiners in Service" sought to maintain ties with Pepperdine alumni in the military and Pepperdine students who paused their education in order to enroll in the military. During WWII, many young people involved with Pepperdine served in the military, and this bulletin was read by undergraduate students and faculty in order to hear updates on their friends in the military.

Pen Patterns 1945

Abstract: "Pen Patterns" was published only once, although it was originally intended to be a literary periodical. The issue in this collection has a series of poetry and prose written by students at Pepperdine, much of which is written in response to the final months of WWII. This would-be periodical is by its nature a predecessor to Pepperdine’s Expressionists magazine, which is still published annually.

Pep Rally: The Official Newsletter of Pepperdine University Athletes 2000

Abstract: Published in the late 1990s and early 2000s, "Pep Rally" was named “the official newsletter of Pepperdine university athletics.” As one would expect, it provided ongoing updates to university athletic events, personnel, and team members. This publication is unrelated to the Student Alumni Organization's annual “Pep Rally” events.

Abstract: "School Safety" was written by George Nicholson, director and chief counsel for NSSC (National School Safety Center) and his staff. The NSSC was a partnership of the U.S. Department of Justice, Department of Education, and Pepperdine University. The NSSC aimed to study educational methods implemented at Pepperdine University to understand why Pepperdine had a low violence rate, and apply those methods to other higher education institutions and primary schools across the U.S. The "School Safety" periodical was published quarterly from 1984 to 1990.

The Cross Examiner 1995

Abstract: "The Cross-Examiner" was written and printed by Pepperdine School of Law students. It was intended to serve a similar role as the Graphic at Seaver college, allowing the Law School students a medium by which to discuss their views and share relevant news. It was first published in March of 1995 and published weekly for a short time.

The Deans' Dicta 1976-1980

Abstract: The "Deans' Dicta" was a faculty-written announcement pamphlet published weekly in 1978 and frequently until 1980. In theory, it served as a way for the school's deans to broadcast announcements to students much the same way group emails function now. Given the repetitive nature of the reminders week to week, it seems that the dicta was by and large ineffective.
