Title: Tarzana Property Owners' Association Collection

Creator: Tarzana Property Owners' Association

Identifier/Call Number: URB.TPOA

Extent: 5.68 linear feet

Date (inclusive): 1961-1993

Abstract: The Tarzana Property Owners' Association was formed in 1962 from several existing neighborhood groups in the interest of furthering community growth and development. The collection documents the San Fernando Valley's historical development, and the Tarzana Property Owners' Association's attempts at lobbying for legislation. It includes meeting minutes, community planning studies, correspondence, complaints, fact sheets, environmental impact studies, maps, petitions, resolutions, site plans, treasurer's reports, and Association newsletters. Correspondence files include letters by Board members to Mayor Tom Bradley, Councilman Marvin Braude from the 11th District and Councilwoman Laura Chick from the 3rd District.

Language of Material: English

Historical Note:

The Tarzana Property Owners' Association was formed in 1962 from several existing neighborhood groups in the interest of furthering community growth and development. In the late 1960s the group worked to establish park lands, and open spaces due to rapid commercial growth in Tarzana. Other issues the group dealt with included the disparity between acreage requirements in the Master Plan for Tarzana vs. requirements for Tarzana Developers, especially regarding the keeping of horses and the need for buffer zones between commercial and residential properties contiguous to Ventura Boulevard.

With the expansive growth of the San Fernando Valley during the 1970s and 1980s, the Tarzana Property Owners' Association worked to negotiate infrastructure upgrades, growing crime rates, the expansion of the Los Angeles Police Department's San Fernando Valley Division, changing traffic patterns, zoning, construction, and other issues. Their influence grew as the Board became better acquainted with the larger political machinery within Los Angeles, and the Association became an active intermediary between Tarzana and the City of Los Angeles. The Association also became a facilitator for progressive legislation to "protect a desirable lifestyle which is in some danger from continued development." As one of the first neighborhood associations in the San Fernando Valley, this grass-roots organization inspired many local communities to become involved in local politics and community planning.

Scope and Contents

The Tarzana Property Owners' Association Collection consists of meeting minutes, community planning studies, correspondence, complaints, fact sheets, environmental impact studies, maps, petitions, resolutions, site plans, treasurer's reports, and Association newsletters. Correspondence files include letters by Board members to Mayor Tom Bradley, Councilman Marvin Braude from the 11th District, and Councilwoman Laura Chick from the 3rd District. The oversized map files contain street maps of proposed developments and zoning permits within the Tarzana area. The collection contains information about the San Fernando Valley's historical development and the Tarzana Property Owner's Association's attempts at facilitating legislation in their own interests. The collection is arranged into two series: Administrative Files (1963-1993) and Project Files (1961-1991).

Series I, Administrative Files, includes correspondence, minutes, newsletters, and treasurer's reports. The files are arranged in alphabetical order by type and in chronological order within each file folder.

Series II, Project Files, documents issues of importance to Tarzana homeowners including city planning, fire safety, flood control, height limitations for commercial buildings, maintenance and repair of streets, rapid growth, traffic safety and various zoning concerns. Projects are documented through building codes, city ordinances, and planning studies, correspondence, environmental impact reports, fact sheets, handbills, legal case documents, maps, memoranda, newspaper clippings, news releases, petitions, permits, public hearing notices and reports, resolutions, schematic designs, site plans, and related records. Files are arranged in alphabetical order.
