Biographical / Historical
The Arabian Horse Association of Southern California (AHASC) was founded in 1944 under the initial name Arabian Horse Breeders' Society of California by Joanna Phillips of Glendale, California. The group was formed to promote the Arabian breed, educate owners on proper care, and study the history and characteristics of Arabian horses. Phillips served as the group's first secretary and treasurer and R. Warren Phillips served as the first president. The name was officially changed to Arabian Horse Association of Southern California in 1950.
The AHASC held its first annual Fall Arabian Horse Show in 1945 in Flintridge, California. The show continues to be held every year in Santa Barbara, California.
Scope and Contents
The collection contains administrative records that document the operation of the Arabian Horse Association of Southern California (AHASC), including financial records, meeting minutes, membership directories and lists; newsletters published by the AHASC to promote their activities; programs for horse shows organized by the AHASC, including the Annual All-Arabian Horse Show that has gone on continuously since 1944; and film recordings of two of the Annual All-Arabian Horse Shows.
Arrangement
The collection is organized into the following series: Series 1. Administrative Records; Series 2. Newsletters; Series 3. Horse Show Programs; and Series 4. Audiovisual Materials.

Subjects and Indexing Terms
Series 1: Administrative Records 1944-2001

Scope and Contents
The series includes by-laws, correspondence, financial records, meeting minutes, membership directories, and membership lists that document the operations and activities of the AHASC. The file "War Horse to Show Horse by Gladys Brown Edwards" contains a memorandum of understanding in which the AHASC turns over all rights and interests in the book to the Arabian Horse Registry of America Trust.

The series also includes a binder containing copies of early administrative records including meeting minutes, articles of incorporation, by-laws, and newsletters from 1944-1951 compiled by member Mrs. Ruth Vanderhoof and reprinted in binder format by the Arabian Horse Association of Southern California in 1984. The binder includes a table of contents, pagination, and an introduction by AHASC member William Ainley.

Arrangement
The series is arranged alphabetically by folder title in the finding aid but does not reflect physical arrangement.
