Biographical / Historical
Publications dedicated to LGBTQ (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer or Questioning) communities and issues have been in existence since the early twentieth century, but started to become more prevalent in the 1960s-1970s when there was an increase of activism and visibility in regards to the LGBTQ community. This collection, which spans decades, contains a wide variety of material devoted to the LGBTQ community, from more prominent and bestselling publications, to lesser known and more obscure publications. Some of the publications in this collection include:

1. Ache was a monthly journal created in 1989 by black lesbians for black women and ran until 1994. Ache’s goals were: “1) To celebrate ourselves, our communities, and our accomplishments. 2) To document black lesbian herstory and culture. 3) To provide a forum where issues impacting our communities can be openly discussed and analyzed. 4) To keep black lesbians in touch with each other’s activities locally, nationally, and globally. 5) To provide a place where black visual artists and writers can develop and display their skills. 6) To help organize and empower ourselves; so that we may become more effective allies in the struggle to end the oppression that we, as black people, women and members of the gay community, face daily” (Ache, February 1990).

2. The Advocate was first published in 1967 by an activist group known as Personal Rights in Defense and Education (PRIDE) in response to a police raid at a Los Angeles gay bar and the demonstrations that followed. The Advocate focuses on news, arts, politics, opinions, and entertainment of interest to the LGBT community, and is the oldest and largest LGBT publication in the United States.

3. After Dark, first published in 1968, was an entertainment magazine that covered cinema, theater, and other performing arts, as well as topics of interest to the LGBT community. The last issue of After Dark was published in January 1983.

4. The Bay Area Reporter is a free weekly newspaper that has been serving the LGBT community in the San Francisco Bay Area since 1971. It is the United States’ oldest continuously published newspaper of its kind and is one of the largest circulating LGBT newspapers.

6. Common Lives/Lesbian Lives was a quarterly publication that ran from 1981-1996 and was produced by and for lesbians. Published out of Iowa City, Common Lives/Lesbian Lives was one of the first lesbian magazines to be published outside of New York and California, and focused its contents on diversity within the lesbian community.

7. Frontiers Magazine, was Southern California’s oldest and largest LGBT magazine during its run from 1981-2016. The bi-weekly publication was freely distributed throughout Southern California and focused on news and entertainment regarding the LGBT community. Along with its magazine, Frontiers Media also published an escort listing section entitled Frontiers4Men.
8. Gay Sunshine Journal was first published in 1970 by a collective loosely affiliated with the Berkeley Gay Liberation Front (GLF) and reported on issues surrounding gay liberation. After the GLF dissolved, the paper was revived in 1971 by Winston Leyland and continued to focus on publishing material regarding gay liberation and activism until 1973, when it shifted its focus to include interviews featuring gay writers and artists, essays, poetry, and politics. The last issue of Gay Sunshine Journal was published in 1982.

10. RFD Magazine is a quarterly publication for the gay community that focuses on country living and alternative lifestyles. Produced by volunteers and reader-written, RFD Magazine was founded in 1974 and contains poetry, photographs, stories, and artwork.

11. Transgender Tapestry was a magazine founded by Merissa Sherrill Lynn and published from approximately 1979-2008 by the International Foundation for Gender Education. Transgender Tapestry was a magazine "for and about crossdressers, transgendered, transexual, intersexed, and other gender-variant persons, and those who support them" (Transgender Tapestry, Spring 2000) and covered a variety of topics such as transsexualism, politics, crossdressing, and more. Throughout its run, Transgender Tapestry went through several name changes including The TV-TS Tapestry, Tapestry, and The Tapestry Journal.

12. Transvestia was a magazine started in 1960 by Virginia Prince, a transgender activist and founder of the Society for the Second Self- an international support and social organization for heterosexual crossdressers. Transvestia was published bi-monthly from 1960-1980 with a total of 100 issues, and included content such as: true and fictionalized stories; articles regarding transvestism; a question section; editorials; poems; and others.

13. Update was a weekly newspaper established in 1979 for the gay and lesbian community. Based in San Diego, Update was distributed throughout Southern California and select cities in the Southwest.

Scope and Contents

The LGBTQ Publications Collection (1961-2018, undated; bulk 1988-2001) consists of over 300 magazines, newspapers, newsletters, reports, and other publications related to the LGBTQ (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer or Questioning) community, and are produced by and/or reporting on LGBTQ issues, sexuality, sexual identity, and culture. Some of the publications featured in this collection include: The Advocate, After Dark, Bay Area Reporter, Echo- The Magazine of the Southwest, Edge, Frontiers Magazine, and Update. Most of the material was published in the United States, but this collection also includes material published in England, France, Australia, and Germany; as well as bilingual material.

Related Materials

The Hensley LGBT Magazine Collection was part of the David Hensley personal collection and consists of material produced by ONE Inc, as well as the first nationally distributed lesbian publication The Ladder, published by the Daughters of Bilitis.
