Title: Punk Archive

Dates: 1980-2011

Collection number: H.Mss.1050

Extent: 5.2 Linear Feet (3 record boxes, 5 document boxes)

Repository: Claremont Colleges. Library. Special Collections, Honnold/Mudd Library, Claremont, CA 91711

Abstract: The Punk archive contains materials relating to the punk scene of the late 1970’s and 1980’s. Flyers depict punk bands and famous punk venues from San Francisco and Rancho Cucamonga. These flyers display unique art and designs representative of the punk movement. In addition, there is a newsletter from Orange, California encouraging peaceful resistance to police brutality aimed at punks and a collection of zines from MAXIMUM ROCKNROLL.

[Identification of item], Punk archive (Collection H.Mss.1050). Special Collections, The Claremont Colleges Library, Claremont, California.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Purchased in 2013 and 2014.

Accruals

The collection will continue to grow as additional materials become available.

Processing Information

Processed by Phoebe Huth in 2014 in the Claremont Center for Engagement with Primary Sources (CCEPS), with assistance from Lisa Crane. The materials in the collection were removed from a binder and binder sleeves and placed into acid free folders. Addition of MAXIMUM ROCKNROLL issues processed by Sara Chetney in 2017.

Biographical / Historical

The collection was purchased by an antiquarian book seller in 2013 with additional purchases from various booksellers in later years. The collection is comprised of materials surrounding Punk music and lifestyle, mainly from the late 1970’s and early 1980’s. The punk scene began to emerge in the United States around the mid-1970s. Over time, there has been a wider variety and range of punk subgroups. Most punk groups are considered to be anti-establishment and questioning of authoritative powers. The punk scene has developed a specific form of music and artwork, which can be seen throughout the collection.

Scope and Contents

The collection is mainly comprised of Punk flyers advertising venues and times for performances of punk bands. These flyers display unique art with dramatic designs representative of the punk movement of the late 1970s and early 1980s. Flyers advertise for well-known bands, such as U2, The Talking Heads, The Dead Kennedy’s, and local bands. The flyers also have a variety of venues that were integral to the Punk movements, such as Mabohay and On Broadway. The collection contains flyers from both San Francisco and Rancho Cucamonga. The collection also depicts later forms of the punk movement, with zines from 1983-2011 of MAXIMUM ROCKNROLL, a not-for-profit monthly zine, which depicts the punk lifestyle across the United States and the world. A newsletter is included in the collection, asking for punks to peacefully resist police brutality.

Series: 3 Posters

Series: 4 Zines 1983 July - 2011 February

Arrangement
This series is arranged in chronological order by date.

Scope and Contents
This series contains punk fanzines from MAXIMUM ROCKNROLL. The zine released its first issue in 1982 and continues to run today. This series contains issues from 1983-2011, depicting the punk lifestyle from the United States and around the world, including one issue looking at the punk scene in the U.S.S.R. in 1991. Because the zine has been published for over three decades, it is able to reflect the changes overtime in the punk scene.
