Biography / Administrative History
Carey McWilliams, editor of The Nation for 20 years, wrote several books dealing with social injustice and discrimination, such as Factories in the Field, Ill Fares the Land, and Brothers Under the Skin. He was born in Steamboat Springs, Colorado, in 1905, received a law degree from the University of Southern California in 1927, and published his first book, a biography of Ambrose Bierce, in 1929. He was a labor lawyer in Los Angeles, and was appointed California Commissioner of Immigration and Housing in 1939. Before he died in 1980, he was awarded an honorary doctorate by the Claremont Graduate School.
