Processing Information
The collection was originally processed and rehoused, by Brian Parshall in 1997. Brian Parshall's original finding aid was created in 1997. Karen Meyer Roux created the corresponding bibliographic records in 2015 and 2016. Laura Schroffel encoded a new finding aid from the bibliographic records in 2017.
Existence and Location of Copies
The collection was digitized in 2017 and the images are available online: http://hdl.handle.net/10020/p910001.
Scope and Content of Collection
A collection of 152 printed maps of Paris and its environs, dating from the mid-18th to the early 20th centuries. Most are hand-colored, indexed, and many are illustrated with vignettes of famed monuments. Various innovative cartographic techniques are utilized, including the "méthode Zugenbuhler," the "système Acklin," and the "procédé de géomontographie Bauerkeller," a bas-relief process. Most are mounted on canvas to facilitate folding, and many are in original folders and/or slipcases.
The collection covers the period during which Paris was transformed from a largely medieval city into a modern metropolis under Napoléon Bonaparte and Napoléon III, reflecting the division of the city into 12 arrondissements, and the building of the rail system and train stations. Most prominent are the changes instigated by Baron Georges-Eugène Haussmann (1809-1891) for Napoléon III during the 1850s and 60s, including the cutting of wide, straight, arterial thoroughfares; the renovation and expansion of the system of bridges across the Seine; the creation of the modern water and sewer systems; the demolition and rebuilding of the île de la Cité into an administrative and religious center; and the annexation of the suburbs, resulting in a total of 20 arrondissements. The map from 1873 indicates buildings and monuments destroyed during the Paris Commune. Included also are guides with maps for the Expositions nationales of 1844 and 1849, and Exposition universelle of 1889.
Unless otherwise specified (i.e. "paper only"), all maps are mounted on canvas.

Plan-guide de l'Exposition de l'industrie nationale 1844 [1844].

Physical Description: [1] sheet
Scope and Content Note
Plan of the Palais de l'industrie on the Champs-Elysées, labelled to show where various manufactures were exhibited in 1844. The building replaced an earlier hall of the same name built for an exhibition of 1839, and was in turn replaced by a building for the Paris World's Fair of 1855. See Wikipedia, "Palais de l'industrie," consulted 7/27/15. Title at head of plan. In margins are eight Parisian buildings and other structures, including elevation of Palais de l'industrie at foot (referred to as "Palais Musée"). Bouquillard's blind stamp appears in top margin and on wrapper. Tipped inside front wrapper is his advertisement for: Nouveaux papiers mousseline (14 x 19.5 cm, folded).

Physical Description: 1 plan: lithograph, hand coloring ; sheet 52 x 68.5, folded in cover to 18 x 20 cm + 1 letterpress index (23, [1] p. (the last blank) ; 17.5 cm)

Scope and Content Note

Publication date is that supplied by Vallée. Title at upper left. Logerot's address at lower right. Views of important buildings appear at their locations on the plan. Circular inset map (12 cm) at lower left, entitled: Environs de Paris / plan d'ensemble des fortifications de Pari. In accordance with the Système Acklin alphabetically listed streets, monuments etc. are located on the plan by means of a silk ribbon, ruled in centimeters, that pivots on a metal grommet attached at the mid point of the left border. Distance from the grommet is given in centimeters, while direction is given in terms of a number from 1 to 132, as printed on a band along top, right, and bottom margins of plan. Seine, mur d'octroi, surrounding defensive wall, and marginal indexing band are traced in color. Scale not given. Getty copy stamped 12606 within a blind embossed oval at lower right, which contains text: Indicateur instantané / système Acklin. The copy retains only 1.5 cm of the locator ribbon. Nouveau Plan de Paris à l'usage des promeneurs : d'après la méthode Zugenbuhler, auteur d'un atlas universel [1858?]

Physical Description: 1 map: lithograph, hand coloring; 42.5 x 59 cm

Scope and Content Note
Vallée lists editions in 1855 and 1857, but not that of 1858 (L. Vallée. Catalogue des plans de Paris, 1933-1934). Plan ruled in 138 numbered squares, alternatively colored pale blue in a checkboard pattern and indexed to the alphabetical list of streets. Important buildings etc. shown pictorially at their site on plan. Dissected in 18 pieces and mounted on toile. Scale approximately 1:15,000. Getty copy closely trimmed with loss of outer border at top and sides and loss of printer's name at bottom. This makes identification of edition uncertain. The "Supplément" to the street index contains two names more than that for the edition of 1857; see University of Chicago Library web site (www.lib.uchicago.edu/e/collections/maps/paris). This suggests that the present map is likely to be 1858.

  Not in Vallée, though a listed map of 1860, printed by Imprimerie Centrale des Chemins de fer, may be an earlier version. See: L. Vallée, Catalogue des plans de Paris, 581. The earlier map bears a MS inscription by Alfred Potiquet, stating that he produced it in October, 1859. Title panel at upper left, including a scale bar of 1500 meters. Map printed in black, over a grid of 32 numbered rectangles in red, apparently intended for an index which the present copy lacks. Scale approximately 1:15,750. On verso of Getty copy is bookplate of A.H. Degeorge, architect.

Physical Description: 1 plan: lithograph, hand coloring; sheet 60 x 80, folded in cover to 16 x 11 cm + 1 letterpress street index (78 p.; 15 cm)

Scope and Content Note

Cover title. Undated. Conjectural publication date 1865 written in pencil on verso of plan and on p. [1] of street index. Plan is ruled into four quarters, each composed of 16 numbered rectangles, to which the separately printed "Nomenclature alphabétique des rues de Paris" is indexed. Each rectangle is subdivided into 5 areas, the central panel of which is color coded for the quarter in which it is located. Thus the location of each street is given as a letter for the quarter's color, a number for the rectangle, and a second letter for the sub-area of the rectangle. Folded plan was originally attached to cover of green textured cloth, stamped in blind and gilt. Binders identified as Vigneau & Pasquier on p. [4] of cover. Street index sewn to p. [2] of cover. Scale not given. In Getty copy plan detached from cover. Following the street index are stapled 8 leaves of blank ruled paper, apparently intended for notes; the first leaf bears names and addresses in Paris, now lined out. Front pastedown in Getty copy is publisher's list of Guides pratiques Conty. Back pastedown is advertisement for Mauger & Fils & Letu, manufacturers of porcelaine and ceramics. On back pastedown is bookplate of Georges Mermiliol, avoué a la Cour d'appel. On verso of plan and on p. [1] of street index is an owner's stamp in blue ink, consisting of a deer between two palm fronds, surmounted by a marquis's coronet (not in Lugt). Written within both stamped impressions is the number 409, and beside the impression on plan verso are several inscriptions, including: Desault / Le Mans (Sarthe).

Scope and Content Note

Two maps printed on a sheet of vellum paper, a bird’s-eye view of Paris on recto and a vertical projection of the Paris region on verso. Undated, but view of Paris includes Metro lines in use and under construction; the latest line shown as being in use (étoile-Nation) was opened in 1909, suggesting a publication date in or about that year. Not in Vallée, who lists an edition of 1900 as well as earlier versions engraved by F. Dufour starting in 1892 (L. Vallée, Catalogue des plans de Paris, 1306-1310). Accompanying letterpress text in French, English, German and Spanish, entitled: Jours et heures d’entrée dans les bibliothèques, monuments, musées, etc., etc. Printed by Imp. Kapp. Selected buildings and monuments shown pictorially on both maps. Regional map includes rivers, railroads, and bicycle routes (the last shown as “praticables” or “non praticables”). Cover in red cloth, silver-stamped on front including view of Notre Dame, and in blind on back (initials of Garnier Frères). Scale not given.

Physical Description: 1 map: lithograph; sheet as sectioned and mounted on toile 52 x 66 cm

Scope and Content Note

Without printed publication date, but bears hand-written date “Fév. 1903.” This date is consistent with Métro’s extent as shown on plan, as the first two lines (opened 1900) are coded as being in operation, while the third (opened 1904) is coded as under construction and others as projected. Streets printed in black, Métro lines and text in red. Scale 1:20,000. On verso of Getty copy is bookplate of A.H. Degeorge, architect.

- Physical Description: 1 plan: lithograph; sheet 53.5 x 71.5 cm, folded inside cover 18 x 11.5 cm + guide (32 pages).
- Scope and Content Note
  Plan undated, but shows Palais du Trocadéro (built 1878) and lacks Eiffel Tower (built 1889), suggesting publication between those dates. Includes drawings in each corner, with captions: Vue générale des magasins du Bon Marché; Magasins du Bon Marché, entrée rue de Sèvres; Magasins du Bon Marché, nouvelle entrée rue du Bac; Magasins du Bon Marché, écuries. Alphabetically listed streets, monuments etc. are located on the plan by means of a silk ribbon, ruled in centimeters, that pivots on a pronged metal fastener attached at the mid point of the left border. Distance from the fastener is given in centimeters, while direction is given in terms of a number from 1 to 136, as printed along the top, right, and bottom margins of plan. Letterpress index printed by Imprimerie centrale des chemins de fer, A. Chaix et Cie. Plan printed in black and red. Cover in red cloth, stamped black and gold. Scale not given.
