Scope and Content of Collection

The Republican Party of California records include minutes and transcripts of meetings, correspondence, memoranda, financial and legal records, polling data, printed matter, clippings, photographs, and sound recordings related to elections and Republican Party activities in California.

The bulk of the material can be found in Chronological File I (1980s- 1990s) and Chronological File II (1990s-2000s). These materials were grouped based on an original filing system of the California Republican Party (CRP). The files include pleadings, discovery, exhibits, and other documents relating to litigation involving the CRP. Many of the cases documented in these files relate to campaign financing as regulated by the Fair Political Practices Commission of California (FPPC) and the Federal Election Commission (FEC), voter rights, and election regulations. In addition, these chronological files include extensive reports on campaign funding, as well as legal clearance requests.

The collection also includes the files of Shawn Steel, who was chairman of the CRP from 2001 to 2003.

Chronological File I (1980s-1990s)
Scope and Contents

Includes correspondence, campaign financing reports, and documents related to litigation from the 1980s and 1990s.

The materials are arranged based on a reconstruction of the CRP's filing system meant to recreate the original order in which the files were kept. For these materials, the CRP used a decimal filing system. Materials in Chronological File I were designated 5363. Folders in the General file were labeled 5363.01, often with additional numbers or letters to guide sorting within this division. The following files, which are mainly legal cases, were labeled with consecutive decimal numbers. Although these filing numbers are not recorded in the finding aid, the numbers were retained on folder labels.
