Biographical Note
Roy Pateman, a British political scientist, was born in England on August 15, 1935. After receiving his Bachelor of Science from the University of Nottingham in 1958, he continued his graduate studies at London and Reading Universities, graduating in 1967 and 1971, respectively. He was also a counter-intelligence operative of the British Army in Kenya and the United Kingdom from 1958 to 1965.
Pateman is Professor Emeritus of Political Science at the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA), after many years of teaching, research, and administrative experience at Princeton University; University of Sydney, Australia; University of California, Los Angeles; the Hoover Institution; and the University of Asmara, Eritrea.
Pateman spent twenty-five years working voluntarily for the Eritrean Relief Association (ERA) in Australia, Sweden, the US, the UK, Eritrea, and Sudan. He also has considerable experience working with the media, television, and radio broadcasting in the United States, Great Britain, Australia, and Eritrea.
