Biographical Note
Daniel Lerner (1917-1980), author and professor of sociology, worked as Chief Editor of the Psychological Warfare Division, SHAEF (1944-1945) and as Chief of Intelligence of the Information Control Division, OMGUS (1945-1946).
Scope and Content Note
Daniel Lerner gathered a portion of the collection in 1944-1945 when he worked as Chief Editor of the Psychological Warfare Division, SHAEF (1944-1945), and as Chief of Intelligence of the Information Control Division, OMGUS (1945-1946). He supplemented the collection with materials he found during his two trips to Europe in 1946 to 1947 and in 1948 while he was Research Director of the International Studies Center at the Hoover Institution of Stanford University. Lerner's book, entitled Sykewar: Psychological Warfare against Germany (New York: George W. Stewart, 1949), is partially based on the collection materials.

Captured German Documents 1944-1945

Scope and Contents note
Administrative orders, clippings, correspondence, diaries, instructions, leaflets, maps, memoranda, pamphlets, reports. The series includes only those German documents that were processed by various agencies of American and British governments and forwarded to the Psychological Warfare Division. The original arrangement—division into files A, DE, etc.—has been preserved, although the reasons for such a division are not always clear. Copies of the same document may sometimes be found in several files. The inventories of three files (DE, PID, and S) were compiled previously, perhaps by Daniel Lerner. Two of them (DE and S) appear in Lerner's book, Sykewar: Psychological Warfare against Germany, pp. 350-389. Although a few documents in these files are missing, the inventories were incorporated in the register unchanged.
