Cataloger’s Notes

According to the author’s notations, the original title for An Experiment in Love was On Thinner Ice. Manuscripts with the original title have been cataloged under the published title, An Experiment in Love.

Among the addenda are several versions of Hilary Mantel’s 2005 novel Beyond Black. Various dated drafts of the chapters of this manuscript were received in no particular order, with only two full drafts among the papers. Individual chapters of the novel therefore, have been cataloged separately or in small groups as grouped by the author, and organized by date. The two full drafts have been cataloged as whole items, but are parsed out (a)-(m) by chapter and the collation lines reflect each individual chapter. The whole drafts are cataloged chronologically with all other drafts.

Furthermore, the numbering of the chapters and the prologue were changed by the author partway through the writing process. The existing number was used in cataloging each chapter regardless of the chapter number in the published form. In particular therefore, early versions of a chapter may be numbered one integer lower than the published chapter, and parties interested in all versions of a particular chapter should be aware of this when requesting the manuscripts.

The Hilary Mantel Papers were cataloged over a span of 12 years and multiple acquisitions, resulting in a collection organized by accretion, with each new acquisition added on in sequence at the end of the collection, rather than interspersed with similar or related materials. Therefore, each separate acquisition must be searched to locate all of the relevant manuscripts or correspondence by a particular author.

Because the collection was cataloged over a span of 12 years, the names and dates of various people in the collection have changed, usually in order to conform to changing standards in national cataloging practices; in other instances, an individual remarried or died. It was not practical for us to retroactively update the previously cataloged names on the folders or in the Finding Aid, so researchers will find different forms of names used for the same individuals in discrete
Biographical Note

British author Hilary Mantel was born in Derbyshire, England on July 6, 1952; she married Gerald McEwen in 1972. Mantel's work includes articles, book reviews, novels, personal memoirs, short stories, and historical fiction. In 2009 Mantel was awarded the Booker Prize for her novel Wolf Hall and in 2012 she was awarded the Booker Prize a second time for Bring Up the Bodies. Among many other awards and prizes, Mantel was appointed Commander of the Order of the British Empire (CBE) in 2006 and Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire (DBE) in 2014.

Scope and Content - Part I and Addenda

The collection is comprised primarily of manuscripts and correspondence of British author Hilary Mantel (1952-). Manuscripts include short stories, lectures, radio plays, articles and reviews, as well as various drafts and notes for Mantel's novels. Notably, all four drafts of A Place of Greater Safety are present, including Mantel's early drafts written while living in Saudi Arabia. Copious notes for The Giant, O'Brien are present, as well as significant notes for Fludd and A Change of Climate. The 2005 addenda include prolific notes and drafts of Beyond Black.

Personal and business correspondence with a number of other prominent authors and figures is present, including Elizabeth Jane Howard, Barbara Epstein, Norman Hampson, Lesley Glaister, Miranda Miller and Auberon Waugh. Email strings have been catalogued according to the oldest full email present, with added entries made for the authors of email replies and significant addressees, excepting Hilary Mantel. Boxes 47-52 contain Mantel's diaries and are to remain sealed for her lifetime.

Mantel's engagement books are monthly planners to cover appointment and events from 1989-1997.

Ephemera includes printed items by and about Hilary Mantel, research materials, variants of cover art, publisher publicity for Mantel's books, and literature about various festivals and lectures with which Mantel has been involved. Of note are some materials relating to Mantel's life in Saudi Arabia, influential in her novel Eight Months on Ghazzah Street: an Arabic calendar, maps of Jeddah and a psychological evaluation of Mantel and her husband, Gerald McEwen.

Audio tapes and CDs include interviews with Hilary Mantel, readings from her novels, and various radio programs Mantel wrote for or was involved with.

Photographs include snapshots and professional portraits of Hilary Mantel and others. Some photographs appear to have been taken for book jackets.

Scope and Content Note -- Part II

The manuscripts in Part II include articles, short stories, interviews, and notes and drafts for various novels, including Giving Up the Ghost and the first two novels in Mantel's Thomas Cromwell trilogy: Wolf Hall and Bring Up the Bodies. This material includes numerous drafts of the novels, play scripts and television adaptations based on the novels.

The correspondence includes Business Correspondence and Personal Correspondence; the Business Correspondence contains letters and emails from Mantel's publishers, agents, newspapers and magazines, and a large number of requests for Mantel to speak at various conferences and events. The Personal Correspondence is mainly letters and emails from family, friends and personal fan letters.

There are a number of topics covered extensively in both correspondence series: Endometriosis, Mantel's Booker Prize wins in 2009 and 2012, Mantel's work being plagiarized in 2005 by Judith Kelly in her memoir Rock Me Gently and the controversy caused by Mantel in her "Royal Bodies" comments in 2013. This material also includes a small number of photographs, mainly snapshots and studio portraits, CDs and ephemera. The ephemera contains material about festivals, lectures, honorary degrees, financial reports and annotated envelopes; also included are a small number of engagement diaries.
