Title: Walter A. Scott photograph collection
Date: 1877-1939
Date (bulk): circa 1900-1935
Identifier/Call Number: P83-019a (SAFR 19105)
Creator: Scott, Walter A.
Physical Description: 4331 items.
Repository: San Francisco Maritime National Historical Park, Historic Documents Department
Building E, Fort Mason
San Francisco, CA 94123
Abstract: The Walter A. Scott photograph collection, 1877-1939, bulk circa 1900-1935, (SAFR 19105, P83-019a) is comprised mainly of images of pleasure yachts, both sail and power, underway in the San Francisco Bay, California. The collection has been processed to the Item level and is open for use.
Physical Location: San Francisco Maritime NHP, Historic Documents Department
Language(s): In English.
Access
This collection is open for use unless otherwise noted.
Nitrate negatives are restricted from use. Use-copies can be provided. Glass plate negatives may require special handling by the reference staff.
Publication and Use Rights
Some material may be copyrighted or restricted. It is the researcher’s obligation to determine and satisfy copyright or other case restrictions when publishing or otherwise distributing materials found in the collections.
Processing Note
The photographs in this collection (P83-019a) were originally part of a very large collection of Walter A. Scott photographs, which were acquired by the San Francisco Maritime Museum at some point between the early days of the museum in the mid-1950s to the early 1960s. In the mid-1960s, a large portion of the Scott collection was selected for cataloging. These images are now part of the Classified photograph collection. An index of this collection is currently only accessible to Park staff through the ICMS Archives Module Classified photographs directory. It is also accessible by staff through the card index (by vessel name) and the card catalog (by vessel name, other subjects, and photographer’s name). The material cataloged in the mid-1960s was roughly half of yachting scenes and half of other commercial work, primarily of passenger vessels and freighters. The bulk of the remainder of the Scott collection is described here, in P83-019a; however, there are several other small Scott collections (see the Related Materials section).

Generally, it seems that the photographs in P83-019a and in the Classified photograph collection are each unique and complement each other with very little duplication (based on looking at PRESIDENT WILSON negatives in P83-019a and in the Classified photograph collection). In a few cases, there is a negative in the Classified photograph collection and a corresponding print in P83-019a. There are also photograph albums in another collection (SAFR 15240, P79-040a (SCR 32a-d)) that contain prints made from many of the negatives in P83-019a.

The glass plates in this collection (P83-019a) roughly begin with some dating from 1900 and 1905, but increase in frequency per year from 1910 (when he became a commercial photographer), through 1925-1926, when he shifted from glass to film. The images on film begin in 1926, and run through 1935, with the last few in 1938.
The photographer numbers in this collection are generally in the range of 1-1200 and 2000-3000, with some early 4000 numbers as well. The Walter A. Scott photographs that were cataloged into the Classified photograph collection seem to generally be in the early number range of 1-1100 and in the 5000-6000 range; they also tend to have more steam powered vessels, but there are also sailing vessels included in the Classified collection.
Scott’s system for numbering his negatives cannot be described with certainty, since no index came with the collection, nor do we have long continuous sequences of numbers. At least two persons, to judge by the handwriting, were involved in assigning photographer numbers to the negatives.

In a general way, it appears that at some point Scott arranged his images of sailing yachts alphabetically by the name of the vessel (but not necessarily chronologically under each name) and numbered them (roughly photographer numbers 52 through 911, in this collection), mostly 6.5 x 8.5 inch glass plates, but some other size plates as well. He then apparently continued the number series (starting around photographer number 1006, in this collection), for the balance of the 4 x 5 inch glass plates, ending in the mid 1200s. However, he did not assign numbers to images of powered vessels or other subjects in these sizes, except where he had taken, under commission, a number of views and had numbered these as independent sets.

For his 5 x 7 inch glass plates, he appears to have begun with photographer number 2000 and to have continued with this sequence when he switched to nitrate film negatives (beginning with number 2296), passing 3000 at the end, with a few numbered in the 4000s and two images in the 5000s. In this sequence, he did include images of powered vessels.

While it is assumed that most of the photographs in this collection were taken by Walter A. Scott, there are a few photographs of photographs in the collection that were presumably originally taken by other photographers. For example, A.E. Wells (Item 849), Ingram of Long Beach, California (Items 838, 840) and Winter & Pond (Item 1609). In the scope note for the Walter A. Scott photographs (SAFR 19479, P78-436a), it is noted that “In addition to his own photographs, Mr. Scott acquired the photographs of T.H. Wilton and reproduced them for his own catalog of images.” It is entirely possible that some of the photographs in this collection (P83-019a) are also Thomas H. Wilton photographs. Wilton was one of the foremost maritime photographers in the late 19th/early 20th century and was the proprietor of the Elite Studio. According to the SFMM Accession ledgers (406/1), Mr. Wilton was a sea captain on coastal schooners before 1870. There are also photographs of paintings and information about the original painter has been noted at the Item level, when known. Walter A. Scott was a member of the California Camera Club, and it is possible that some of the prints could be from other members of the club, though this could not be verified.

In 1984, it appears that SAFR staff arranged the photographs by physical type (roughly) and assigned Item numbers to the photographs. The nitrate negatives were numbered first, then glass, then prints. See the arrangement notes for more detail. The photographer numbers are not in order within each of the physical types or across all types.

Each photographic image has been assigned an Item number; there are often multiple physical forms of each image (e.g. a nitrate negative, a contact interpositive and a contact negative) which has been noted in the physical description field. SAFR staff created most of the contact interpositives and contact negatives in the mid-1980s and early 1990s.

In the Fall of 2013, SAFR Archivist Taylor Horton moved the following 104 nitrate negatives from the Nitrate Discard box to regular nitrate storage, because he felt that their condition was not poor enough to warrant destruction: 64; 65; 68; 113; 116; 120; 290; 299-307; 313-318; 320; 326; 328; 330; 339-344; 347; 349; 353; 354; 382; 386; 393; 407; 411; 415; 416; 421; 424; 436; 447; 452; 467; 468; 476; 478; 481; 483; 486; 488-500; 527; 530; 532-534; 536; 538; 539; 541; 549; 558; 560; 562; 569; 579; 581; 585-587; 590; 595-602; 629; 695; 802; 808; 831; 832; 847.1; 847.2.

When SAFR staff member Richard Tooker processed the collection in 1984, he noted that: “Only about one-third of the images now listed were identified by name. The majority of the negatives are numbered, but by no means at all.” When staff members re-processed the collection in 2014, they were able to identify many of the “unidentified” vessels by using the numbers and letters visible on their sails and by the names on their hulls. They also intellectually arranged the photographs into Series and File Units by vessel type and subject matter.

Description Notes: Dates refer to when the original photograph was taken unless otherwise noted. Some of the photographic prints and negatives in this collection are copies that were made much later than when the original photograph was taken, and the dates of these reproductions were determined based on evaluations from previous staff members; however, there is no way to verify which method was used, and therefore some dates may be incorrect.

Acquisition Information
SAFR-00001
GOGA-00789

SAFR-00001 is a blanket accession that was transferred from the Golden Gate National Recreation Area (GGNRA) to the San Francisco Maritime National Historical Park in September 1988. GGNRA had previously acquired the collection from the San Francisco Maritime Museum when it became a unit of the National Park Service in 1977.

GOGA-00789 was transferred from the J. Porter Shaw Library to the Golden Gate National Recreation Area (GGNRA) in February 1985.

It is unknown who donated these photographs to the San Francisco Maritime National Historical Park, but they were acquired prior to the mid-1960s.

Historical or Biographical Note
Walter A. Scott (1864-1957) was a California photographer from the 1900s-1930s. He worked professionally from 1910-1940s and primarily took photographs of yachts and other vessels in the San Francisco Bay.

Walter Amos Scott was born in Niles, California, on September 28, 1864, to Eleanor Bein McKay Scott (1819-1894) and Captain Caleb Cook Scott (1813-1898). Eleanor and Caleb were both born in Nova Scotia, Canada, and his father was a mariner for many years. In the early 1860s, Caleb and Eleanor settled in the San Francisco Bay Area alongside the Alameda Creek near Niles (now known as Fremont), in a house he named “Mizzentop” (SFMM Accession Ledger).

Walter did not go to sea like his father. He attended Boy’s High School briefly and was an “outstanding middle distance runner” (SFMM). The 1889 University of California at Berkeley Blue and Gold yearbook lists Scott as a member of the Olympic Athletic Club, and he was later a member of the Athlete’s Association. According to the biography in the SFMM Accession Ledger, Walter joined Baker & Hamilton as a secretary and was later a court recorder. He then went into business in San Francisco, handling typewriters and office supplies from at least 1896-1909 (earlier years not verified). He had his own businesses and also worked for other companies at this time.

From 1896-1899, Walter and Lewis M. Bannan owned a typewriter and supply business named Scott & Bannan, located at 331 and 333 Montgomery Street in San Francisco. In 1899, only Walter’s name was listed under Scott & Bannan and it appears he might have run it this year on his own. In 1900, Walter was listed as a general agent for Columbia Bar-Lock Typewriter, typewriters and supplies and cameras, at 325 Montgomery Street, Rooms 7-8, San Francisco. From 1901-1905, Walter was Manager of The Columbia Typewriter Manufacturing Co.; from 1901-1903 the address was 319 California Street, San Francisco; from 1904-1905 the address was 207 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. From 1906-1907, it appears that he had his own business selling “typewriters, desks, office supplies” and he was also an agent for Columbia Visible Typewriters at 111 Fillmore Street and 523 Market Street, San Francisco. He had his own business at 517 Market Street, San Francisco (1908) and at 531 Market Street, San Francisco (1909).

Scott’s interest in photography increased after the 1906 San Francisco Earthquake (SFMM Accession Ledger). Walter was a prolific amateur photographer until 1910, when he made the shift to commercial photography (San Francisco City Directories for 1909, 1910). He had photograph studios in three different San Francisco locations throughout the years, including 558 Market Street (1910-1916), 583 Market Street (1917-1936), and 55 Stevenson Street (1937-1941). In the September 1941 issue of Camera Craft, Walter A. Scott listed many cameras and photograph equipment for sale at his 55 Stevenson Street studio, and it appears that he was downsizing. From 1942-1946, he was listed as a commercial photographer at his home address, 1234 10th Avenue, San Francisco.

In addition to his commercial business, Walter A. Scott was involved in photography associations: the California Camera Club of San Francisco and the Photographers’ Association of America. On April 12, 1909, he was elected the President of the California Camera Club in San Francisco (Photographic Times). He was also Treasurer for the Photographers’ Association of America from 1922-1923 (Camera Craft, Vol. 29; Camera Craft, Vol. 30).

In 1886, Walter married Jennie Ann Bannon (October 19, 1864-June 16, 1940) (her name has also been seen spelled as Jenny Ann Brannon and Brannan). They had two children together: Walter George Scott (October 31, 1895-September 20, 1951) and Lloyd Allan Scott (April 4, 1901-January 9, 1979). Walter George worked for C & H Sugar Refinery in Crockett, California, from at least 1917-1920, and at the S & T Photographic printing and developing shop at 562 Market Street, San Francisco, from 1930, 1937-1940 (years outside these ranges have not been verified) (WWI Draft card; 1920 census; Crocker-Langley San Francisco City Directories). He was married to Betty Meyrs and they had a son named Walter A. Scott, Jr. (September 29, 1916-January
Walter A. Scott, Jr. lived with his grandparents in San Francisco from 1897-1940 (Crocker-Langley, 1937-1940). Walter and Jennie's other son Lloyd Allan Scott worked as a Master for Matson Steamship Company for 50 years and also as a furniture handler. He married Virginia D. (Sutton?) (1905-1975) in the 1920s and it does not appear that they had any children.

Walter was a Mason and member of California Lodge No. 1, F. & A.M., in San Francisco. Walter lived in San Francisco for most of his life at the following addresses: 2210 Steiner, San Francisco (1886); 2532 McAllister, San Francisco (1896-1897); and 1234 10th Avenue, San Francisco (1898-1946).

Mr. Scott died at the age of 93 in Novato, California, on October 2, 1957. He was laid to rest in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park in Colma, California. Walter A. Scott was survived by his son Lloyd Allan Scott, grandson Walter Amos Scott, Jr., and great grandchildren Lois and Donna Scott.

Other potential information about Scott: Some sources say that for a short period of time Scott attended the University of California at Berkeley, although this could not be confirmed in any of their yearbooks for the years 1878-1888, 1890-1893. However, there was a Walter A. Scott listed in the 1889 Blue and Gold yearbook as competing athletically as part of the Olympic Athletic Club, which is true according to the biography in the SFMM Accession Ledger.

Walter Scott’s family information: Walter A. Scott’s parents were Eleanor Bein McKay Scott (1819-1894) and Captain Caleb Cook Scott (1813-1898). Eleanor and Caleb were both born in Nova Scotia, Canada; Caleb was born in Yarmouth and Eleanor was born in Pictou. According to the biography in the SFMM Accession Ledger, Caleb was master of the British barkentine EMPRESS, which was later made into a grain barge in San Francisco. In 1861, Caleb sailed from Yarmouth to Boston, Massachusetts, aboard the schooner EAGLE. Caleb "sailed his way around the Horn of Magellan in South America on his way to a new life in the [San Francisco] Bay Area, and settled alongside the Alameda creek near Niles" (City of Fremont’s website). He was naturalized on June 24, 1867.

Caleb and Eleanor lived in the Washington Township, Alvarado Precinct, and Caleb was a farmer from at least 1867-1894 (later dates not confirmed). Caleb was listed as a farmer on the 1860, 1870 and 1880 U.S. Censuses and the 1894 Oakland City Directory. Eleanor died in 1894. From 1896-1897, Caleb lived in San Francisco with his son Walter at 2532 McAllister Street. The 1896 California Voter Register indicates that Caleb was missing his left leg at this time. Caleb died in 1898. Eleanor and Caleb are buried in the Centerville Pioneer Cemetery in Fremont, California.

Collection Scope and Content

The Walter A. Scott photograph collection, 1877-1939, bulk circa 1900-1935, (SAFR 19105, P83-019a) is comprised mainly of images of pleasure yachts, both sail and power, underway in the San Francisco Bay, California. The collection has been processed to the Item level and is open for use.

Contains photographs of sailing yachts, power yachts and other vessels, 1877-1939, bulk circa 1900-1935. There are 2520 unique photographic images in 4321 physical forms (858 nitrate negatives, 895 contact interpositives, 869 contact negatives, 25 safety negatives, 1587 glass plate negatives, 3 glass plate positives, 4 lantern slides, 83 black-and-white photographic prints, and 7 postcards).

Approximately four-fifths of the collection is comprised of sailing yachts underway on San Francisco Bay, California; more specifically, a little over half of the collection contains images of sloops. There are many photographs of early sloops, yawls, and schooner yachts built near the turn of the 20th. There are M, N, Q, R, S, and X Class vessels represented as well as Bird Boats (a local San Francisco development in the 1920s) and some International Metre vessels (6m, 8m). There is also a photograph of a San Francisco Sea Scout sailing vessel in May 1932 (Item 738).

From about 1895-1908, Walter A. Scott’s yachting photographs are primarily of various regattas. After he became a professional photographer in 1910, he took more commissioned shots of specific vessels, regattas, and other events throughout the yachting season. Many of these views were obviously commissioned by owners, as they are close up broadside views with people on board smiling at the photographer.

The locations of the images are mostly all in the San Francisco Bay off Sausalito, Tiburon, Angel Island, Alcatraz, in front of Fort Mason, and the San Francisco waterfront. Some of the waterfront views show buildings from San Francisco’s 1915 Panama-Pacific International Exposition (PPIE). There are also a few views of Point Lobos, Lands End, Ocean Beach, San Francisco street scenes, and a trip to Point Reyes. There are additional photographs of Swanson’s boatyard in Belvedere in 1912 (Items 2411, 2412) and Madden’s Shipyard in Sausalito in August 1927 (Items 301, 306, 815).

The collection also includes photographs of merchant ships and U.S. Army and Navy vessels as well as photographs of photographs and photographs of paintings of sailing ships. There are also a small number of photographs from the MAJORNO (built 1894: polar exploration vessel) Arctic exploration trip in 1928.

Collection Arrangement

Physical arrangement: The photographs in this collection appear to have been arranged and numbered by physical type (roughly): Nitrate negatives (Items 1-862); Glass plate negatives, 4 x 5 inches (Items 863-1196, 2512-2519); Glass plate negatives, 5 x 7 inches (Items 1197-1717); Glass plate negatives, 6.5 x 8.5 inches (Items 1752-2466, 2481, 2511); Glass plate negatives, 8 x 10 inches (Items 1816-1817, 2467-2480); Photographic prints (Items 1718-1723, 1749-1751, 2482-2510); Safety negatives (Items 1724-1748). The photographer numbers are not in order within each physical types (or across all types), and it appears that the current physical order and numbering was done by previous SAFR staff.

Intellectual arrangement: In order to improve access to the photographs, the collection has been intellectually arranged into the following six Series based on subject matter: Series 1. Sloop yachts; Series 2. Ketches, yawls, schooners, and unidentified sailing yacht types; Series 3. Power yachts and motorboats; Series 4. Yachting events and clubhouses; Series 5. Non-yachting vessels and airplanes; Series 6. San Francisco Bay Area and unidentified locations.

Series 1. Sloop yachts, circa 1900-1938 (bulk 1900-1935)

Extent: 1428 photographs (2298 physical forms: 421 nitrate negatives, 432 contact interpositives, 425 contact negatives, 7 safety negatives, 985 glass plate negatives, 2 glass plate positives, 3 lantern slides, 16 black-and-white photographic prints, 7 postcards)

Scope and Content Note

Contains photographs of Bird Boats, R Class sloops and other sloop yachts. Most of the sloops in this series were built in the first part of the 20th century. A majority of the vessels are seen underway on the San Francisco Bay. Includes photographs of many regattas, including Annual Pacific Inter-Club Yachting Association (P.I.C.Y.A.) regattas, Corinthian Yacht Club regattas and St. Francis Yacht Club regattas. There are also photographs from Opening Day on the Bay, which occurs annually in late April/early May. People can often be seen on board the yachts. Some of the photographs show landmarks in the background, such as Alcatraz Island, the San Francisco waterfront, the Panama-Pacific International Exposition (PPIE) buildings, and the Golden Gate.

Arrangement

Arranged into four Subseries: Subseries 1.1: Bird Boats; Subseries 1.2: R Class sloops; Subseries 1.3: Other sloops, A-Z; Subseries 1.4: Unidentified sloops. The photographs are further arranged into File Units within each Subseries.

Subseries 1.1 Bird Boats
File Unit 1: Identified Bird Boats
File Unit 2: Unidentified Bird Boats

Subseries 1.2 R Class sloop yachts
File Unit 1: Identified R Class sloops
File Unit 2: Unidentified R Class sloops

Subseries 1.3 Other sloop yachts, A-Z
File Unit 1: Other sloops, A-F
File Unit 2: Other sloops, G-L
File Unit 3: Other sloops, M-R
File Unit 4: Other sloops, S-Z
File Unit 5: Groups of vessels with names A-Z

Subseries 1.4 Unidentified sloop yachts
File Unit 1: Unidentified Aeolian Yacht Club sloops
File Unit 2: Unidentified California Yacht Club sloops
File Unit 3: Unidentified Corinthian Yacht Club sloops
File Unit 4: Unidentified San Francisco Yacht Club sloops
File Unit 5: Unidentified St. Francis Yacht Club and Vallejo Yacht Club sloops
File Unit 6: Groups of unidentified sloops from multiple known yacht clubs
File Unit 7: Unidentified sloops, yacht club affiliation unknown
Subseries 1.1. Bird Boats, 1921-1936

Extent: 145 photographs (420 physical forms: 137 nitrate negatives, 138 contact interpositives, 137 contact negatives, 8 glass plate negatives)

Scope and Content Note

The following Bird Boats are not present in this Subseries (however, it is possible that they could be some of the unidentified Bird Boats): KIWI (built 1939; sloop: yacht: Bird Class, No. 26), MEADOWLARK (built 1930; sloop: yacht: Bird Class, No. 17), SMALLOW (built 1945; sloop: yacht: Bird Class, No. 25), KESTREL (Bird Boat 14, but never allowed to race), TOWHEE (Bird Boat 15, but never allowed to race).

Biography/Organization History

The Bird Class was a San Francisco Bay type, developed in the early 1920s to handle local wind and water conditions. In 1919, the Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association formed the “S” Class Syndicate, “...a committee of representatives of all six Bay Area Yacht Clubs, to renew interest in yachting, racing, and inter-club competition. The Syndicate came back with historical questions: How about designing an affordable, swift, racing cruiser that can charge through the blustery, choppy conditions of the San Francisco Bay with the confidence of a freighter? A boat that can fly across the foam topped waves like, say, a bird?” (Norton)

“Members of the Pacific Inter-club Yachting Association (P.I.Y.A.), local shipwright J. Herbert Madden Sr., P.I.Y.A. Representative Clifford A. Smith, and Sausalito Naval Architect Fred Brewer drew up a rough sketch of the proposed sloop for members of the San Francisco Yacht Club. The drawing was then sent to well-known boat designer John Alden for review and drafting. The San Francisco contingent accepted his suggestion for increased ballast but declined other modifications. ” John Alden design Number 157 was drafted up by associate Sam Crocker on September 1, 1921 and became the basis for the Bird Class, which still exists today.” (Hook)

The first Bird Boat was built by Madden & Lewis in Sausalito in 1921 for Leon De Fremery, and was named OSPREY (which is a large fish-eating hawk). Twenty-four Bird Boats were built from 1921-1947, and many of these boats are still racing on the San Francisco Bay today (Registry). As of 2007, Birds can still be seen participating in the San Francisco Yacht Racing Association, the Wooden Boat Racing Association, and the SF Master Mariner Annual Regatta (Pierre Josephs, http://www.birdboat.com/).

Box 19, 73

Item No. 02475. Frank J. Sime trophy, for Elks Day, June 17, 1917, for the match race between Presto (built 1898: sloop: yacht) and Pronto (built 1907: sloop: yacht), before June 17, 1917
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (2 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 8 x 10 in.; 1 black-and-white photographic print, 8 x 10 in.
Scope and Content Note
The trophy contains three metal pieces mounted to a wooden plaque. On the left it has a place for the winner but the information hasn’t been filled in yet, so presumably the photograph was taken before the race. The center piece contains a relief of a sloop yacht underway. The piece on the right says “Frank J. Sime trophy, Elks Day, June 17th, 1917.” There is also a small metal Corinthian Yacht Club burgee affixed above the piece on the right.
Item No. 02488. Mah-PE (sloop: yacht) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, starboard broadside view, circa 1920-1925

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 black-and-white photographic print, 6.5 x 8.5 in.
Scope and Content Note
There is a San Francisco Yacht Club burgee on the mast. "MAH-PE" visible on the starboard bow. Seven men visible on board.

File Unit 4. Other sloops, S-Z, 1902-1938
Extent: 92 photographs (124 physical forms).
Scope and Content Note
Contains photographs of identified sloop yachts underway, excluding Bird Boat and R Class sloop yachts, that have names beginning with letters S through Z.

Item No. 00140. Star Baby (built 1924; sloop: yacht: Star Class, No. 252) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1935 May 28

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3069. "May 28 '35" written on the edge of the negative.
Scope and Content Note
Star (symbol) 252" visible on the sail. There is one person on board and the Golden Gate Bridge is in the background. The typed envelope created by previous SAFR staff identified the vessel as GLAD STAR, but the vessel name is likely wrong. According to the Yacht Association Year Books, Star Class boat 252 was known as GLAD STAR in 1932, then her name changed to GUIDING STAR in 1933, and then to STAR BABY in 1934.
Item No. 00141. Star Baby (built 1924; sloop: yacht: Star Class, No. 252), Three Star Two (sloop: yacht: Star Class, No. 948) and Corinthian IV (built 1924; sloop: yacht: Star Class, No. 1012) racing in San Francisco Bay, California, 1935 May 26

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3074. "May 28 '35" written on the edge of the negative.
Scope and Content Note
"Star (symbol) 252", "Star (symbol) 948", and "Star (symbol) 1012" are visible on the sails. The Golden Gate Bridge is under construction in the background. There are other yachts in the background.
The typed envelope created by previous SAFR staff identified the vessel as GLAD STAR, but the vessel name is likely wrong. According to the Yacht Association Year Books, Star Class boat 252 was known as GLAD STAR in 1932, then her name changed to GUIDING STAR in 1933, and then to STAR BABY in 1934.

Item No. 00429. Saralee (sloop: yacht: S Class, No. 3) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, close up starboard broadside view, 1933 July 22-23

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2995.

Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3077. "May 26 '35" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.

Scope and Content Note
"18" and "64" visible on the sails [their Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association Numbers]. People visible on board both vessels. There are many other yachts in the background, possibly including Bear 1 (Bear Class, No. 1: looks like there is a Bear symbol on the sail and a 1 underneath). The Golden Gate Bridge is in the background.

Box 12: Nitrate Storage

Item No. 00558. Moonlight (sloop: yacht: S Class, No. 43), Ruby (sloop: yacht: S Class, No. 45), and Pronto? (sloop yacht: S Class, No. 97) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1927?

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2458

Scope and Content Note
The yachts might be racing. "S43", "S45" and "S97" are visible on the sails of MOONLIGHT, RUBY, and PRONTO?, respectively. These are likely S Class vessels but this could not be confirmed. They are not Snowbird Class vessels. "S97" might have a San Francisco Yacht Club burgee flying from the mast. There is a small passenger vessel in the background. This nitrate negative was moved from the Nitrate Discard box into regular Nitrate Storage on September 27, 2013.

Item No. 00771. Pajarita (sloop: yacht) and Caha (sloop: yacht) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, port broadside views, 1933 July 22-23
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3003.
Scope and Content Note
"7-22-23-33" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.
"25" and "4" visible on the sails. People visible on board both yachts. The numbers on the sails are presumably the Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association Numbers, which would mean that "25" is PAJARITA and "4" is CAHA.
It appears that a yacht with "6 with a bar underneath, 50" is in the background (if this is true, it is presumably the International 6 metre class sloop yacht RIFFLES).

Box 17: Nitrate Storage

Item No. 00852. Harpoon (sloop: yacht) and Emma? (sloop: yacht) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, during the 15th Annual Pacific Interclub Association Regatta, 1910 September 10

Subseries 1.4. Unidentified sloop yachts, 1900-1935
Extent: 617 photographs (731 physical forms: 53 nitrate negatives, 53 contact interpositives, 53 contact negatives, 555 glass plate negatives, 2 lantern slides, 8 black-and-white photographic prints, 7 postcards)
Scope and Content Note
Contains photographs of unidentified sloop yachts underway on the San Francisco Bay. Yacht club burgees are visible on the sloops in some of the images. The sloops in this Subseries either lacked identifying markings (a name on the hull or number on the sail) or markings were present but a vessel name could not be determined.
Arrangement
Arranged into seven File Units: File Unit 1: Unidentified Aeolian Yacht Club sloops; File Unit 2: Unidentified California Yacht Club sloops; File Unit 3: Unidentified Corinthian Yacht Club sloops; File Unit 4: Unidentified San Francisco Yacht Club sloops; File Unit 5: Unidentified St. Francis Yacht Club and Vallejo Yacht Club sloops; File Unit 6: Groups of unidentified sloops from multiple known yacht clubs; File Unit 7: Unidentified sloops, yacht club affiliation unknown.
The photographs have been grouped by yacht club, when known, to aid in possible future identification (File Units 1-5). File Unit 6 contains photographs of groups of unidentified sloop yachts where no single vessel is prominent and there is more than one yacht club represented. File Unit 7 contains photographs of unidentified sloop yachts that either lacked a visible yacht club burgee or the burgee could not be clearly seen or identified.
Series 1. Sloop yachts, circa 1900-1938 (bulk 1900-1935)
Subseries 1.4. Unidentified sloop yachts, 1900-1935

File Unit 1. Unidentified Aeolian Yacht Club sloops, 1900-1925
Extent: 35 photographs (35 physical forms).
Scope and Content Note
Contains photographs of unidentified Aeolian Yacht Club sloop yachts underway.

Box 38

Item No. 01403. Unidentified Corinthian Yacht Club sloop yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, starboard quarter view, 1910 August 14

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in.

Scope and Content Note

A Corinthian Yacht Club burgee is on the mast and it appears that a flag with "H" on it is on the end of the gaff.

The previous envelope created by SAFR staff identified the photograph as during a California Yacht Club regatta on August 14, 1920; however, this could not be confirmed. Likely incorrect due to the fact that it is a Corinthian Yacht Club vessel.

It appears that "18" is visible on the sail. There is a Corinthian Yacht Club burgee on the mast. There is a ferry and a three-masted schooner in the background.

Item No. 02484. Unidentified sloop yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, port broadside view, circa 1910-1920
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 black-and-white photographic print, 6.5 x 8.5 in. Photog. No. 604. "Walter A. Scott, San Francisco" is embossed in the lower right corner of the print.
Scope and Content Note
Possibly PRESTO (built 1898; sloop: yacht). People visible on board. There is another sailing yacht in the background with a Corinthian Yacht Club burgee on the mast.

File Unit 4. Unidentified San Francisco Yacht Club sloops, 1902-1935
Extent: 67 photographs (76 physical forms).
Scope and Content Note
Contains photographs of unidentified San Francisco Yacht Club sloop yachts underway.
Item No. 00598. Unidentified San Francisco Yacht Club sloop yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, on Opening Day, close up starboard broadside view, 1927 May 1

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2388

Two men, a woman and a dog are visible on board. There is a San Francisco Yacht Club burgee on the mast. There is a car ferry and Alcatraz Island in the background. One of the men is facing the camera and could be identified.

Item No. 00595. Unidentified San Francisco Yacht Club sloop yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1927?

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2557

There is a San Francisco Yacht Club burgee on the mast. People visible on board. There is another sloop yacht (possibly R Class? It is too far away to confirm), a ferry and a hilly coastline in the background.

This nitrate negative was moved from the Nitrate Discard box into regular Nitrate Storage on September 27, 2013.

Item No. 00803. Unidentified sloop yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1935 May 26

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3067. "May 26 '35" written on the edge of the negative.

"5" visible on the sail. People visible on board. There might to be a San Francisco Yacht Club burgee on the mast. If the number 5 is the sloop's Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association Number, then this vessel is presumably CASCO.

Item No. 00955.
Spray (yawl: yacht) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, port broadside view, during the 5th Annual Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association regatta, 1900 September 16

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 4 x 5 in. Photog. No. 1215

Scope and Content Note

"50" visible on the sail. There is a Corinthian Yacht Club burgee on the mast. People visible on board. There are other sailing yachts, a square rigged vessel and Alcatraz Island in the background.

The 5th Annual Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association (P.I.C.Y.A.) regatta was scheduled to be held on September 11, 1900, but all events except the race for the twenty-foot special class were postponed, due to the absence of a leeward stakeboat. The rest of the events were rescheduled and happened on September 16, 1900. Partial results of September 16: Special yawl class: SPRAY, NEREID, GYPSIE (won), ARCTURAS. (Sources: San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 107, 15 September 1900, page 4; San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 109, 17 September 1900, page 6).

This photograph used to be unidentified, but there is a photograph of SPRAY in a newspaper article showing it with 50 on the sail on April 27, 1900 (Source: San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 109, 17 September 1900, page 6).

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.

Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).

Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3038. "4-30-35" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.

Scope and Content Note

People visible on board. There are many sailing and power yachts in the background.

Scope and Content Note

People visible on board. There are many sailing and power yachts in the background.

Scope and Content Note

One of the unidentified yachts is two-masted and one is a sloop. The sloop appears to have "F" on the sail. The two-masted yacht closest to the camera says "FOUR WINDS" on the starboard bow. The two-masted yachts are dressed.

Scope and Content Note

Both of the yachts appear to have Corinthian Yacht Club burgees flying from their masts and people are visible on board both vessels. There is also a two-masted schooner yacht anchored in the distant background.

Scope and Content Note

"107" visible on the sail [her Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association Number]. The vessel is dressed and people are visible on board. Hilly coastline in the background.
Item No. 00623. Unidentified gaff rigged two-masted schooner yachts and sloop yachts underway in San Francisco Bay, California, on Opening Day, 1928 late April-early May

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2600

Scope and Content Note
Gaff rigged two-masted schooner yacht in the foreground: "3188" on the port hull; an Aeolian Yacht Club burgee flying from the main mast; people on board; towing a tender. The schooner yacht in the middle distance might have a San Francisco Yacht Club burgee on the main mast. There are piers in the background on the left and Alcatraz Island in the background on the right.

Item No. 00643. Lady Ada (built 1904; schooner, 2m: yacht, gaff rigged) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1929 May 26

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).

Item No. 00940. Unidentified two-masted schooner yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, bow view, during the 5th Annual Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association regatta, 1900 September 11

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 4 x 5 in. Photog. No. 1129

Scope and Content Note
There is an American flag on the main mast. There is a ferry and other sailing yachts (sloops?) in the distance.

The 5th Annual Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Association (P.I.C.Y.A.) regatta was scheduled to be held on September 11, 1900, but all events except the race for the twenty-foot special class were postponed, due to the absence of a leeward stakeboat. The rest of the events were rescheduled and happened on September 16, 1900. The results of the twenty-foot special class race on September 11 were: KITTIWAKE (yawl: yacht) won the event; IDLER (sloop: yacht) finished next; DORIS II (sloop: yacht) finished third; ANITA started but did not finish. The officials and the press were on the tugboat RELIANCE. (Sources: San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 104, 12 September 1900, page 2; San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 107, 15 September 1900, page 4)

Item No. 00784. Three unidentified two-masted sailing yachts underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1933 July 16
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3026
Scope and Content Note
One of the yachts has a dark hull and appears to have "F3" on the sail: this is very likely DRAGOON (ketch: yacht: F Class, No. 3).

Item No. 00785. Unidentified two-masted sailing yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1933 July 16
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 3027
Scope and Content Note
The hull is a dark color but no identifying markings are visible on the sail. There is a chance that this is DRAGOON (ketch: yacht: F Class, No. 3) but this could not be confirmed. The bow of another yacht is in the background.

Item No. 00302. Mogul (power yacht) anchored near a pier at the Madden & Lewis boatyard in Sausalito, California, bow view, 1927 August 1

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2528. "8-1-27" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.

Scope and Content Note
"MOGUL" visible on the port and starboard sides of the bow. There are eight men on the yacht (three of their faces are visible) and two men on a nearby pier. There is a flag draped across the bow. There are several yachts in the background (one which is two-masted) and an unidentified vessel type behind MOGUL. Items 299, 302 and 303 are similar views of the same scene.
This nitrate negative was moved from the Nitrate Discard box into regular Nitrate Storage on September 27, 2013.

Item No. 00303. Mogul (power yacht) sliding down the launching ways at the Madden & Lewis boatyard in Sausalito, California, bow view, 1927 August 1

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2529. "8-1-27" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.

Scope and Content Note
"MOGUL" visible on the port and starboard sides of the bow and there is a flag draped across the bow. There are nine men and one woman on the yacht, most gathered near the bow; all of their faces are visible. The woman appears to be on the edge of the bow and it appears she is hanging on to prevent herself from falling. There is one man on a nearby pier. There are several yachts in the background (one which is two-masted) and an unidentified vessel type behind MOGUL. Items 299, 302 and 303 are similar views of the same scene.
This nitrate negative was moved from the Nitrate Discard box into regular Nitrate Storage on September 27, 2013.
Item No. 00304. Mogul (power yacht) anchored near a pier at the Madden & Lewis boatyard in Sausalito, California, port broadside view, 1927 August 1

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.

Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2530. "8-1-27" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.
Scope and Content Note
"MOGUL" visible on the port bow and on the name board. Eight men are on board the vessel and three men are in a rowboat in front of the vessel; all but one of them are facing the camera. Items 300, 301, 304 and 306 are similar views of the same scene.
This nitrate negative was moved from the Nitrate Discard box into regular Nitrate Storage on September 27, 2013.

Item No. 00305. Mogul (power yacht) anchored near a pier at the Madden & Lewis boatyard in Sausalito, California, view off starboard bow, 1927 August 1

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2531. "8-1-27" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.
Scope and Content Note
"MOGUL" visible on the starboard bow and on the name board. Seven men are on board the vessel, most who are not looking at the camera. Three men are wearing dress clothes and five are wearing work clothes. There are several launches in the background.
This nitrate negative was moved from the Nitrate Discard box into regular Nitrate Storage on September 27, 2013.

Item No. 00306. Mogul (power yacht) anchored near a pier at the Madden & Lewis boatyard in Sausalito, California, port broadside view, 1927 August 1

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2532. "8-1-27" written on the edge of the nitrate negative.
Scope and Content Note
"MOGUL" visible on the port bow and on the name board. Eight men and one woman (wearing a hat, standing in the wheelhouse) are on board the vessel. Items 300, 301, 304 and 306 are similar views of the same scene.
This nitrate negative was moved from the Nitrate Discard box into regular Nitrate Storage on September 27, 2013.

Item No. 00322. Nize Baby (power yacht) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, on Opening Day, 1928 late April-early May

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2588
Scope and Content Note
"NIZE BABY" is visible on the name board and life ring. "NIZE BABY TOO" is painted on the dinghy trailing the power yacht. "4261" is visible on the port bow and there is a flag with an "M" in a white diamond on it flying from a mast on the bow. There are many people on board (men and women) and some are waving to the camera. It appears that Alcatraz Island is in the background.

Item No. 00443. Siren (power yacht) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, on Opening Day, close up starboard broadside view, 1927 May 1
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2382. "5-1-27" written on the bottom edge of the nitrate negative.
Scope and Content Note
"SIREN" name board visible. "628B" visible on the starboard hull. There is a flag flying from a short mast in the center of the vessel that appears to say C.Y.C. on it (presumably for the Corinthian Yacht Club). There are eight people on board (men and women) and they are all looking at the camera. The bow of an unidentified vessel is in the background with an embellishment painted on the port bow.

Box 11; Nitrate Storage
Item No. 00520. Margaret E, II (power yacht) and Aeolian Star (sloop: yacht: Star Class, No. 165) along with unidentified power yachts and sailing yachts underway in San Francisco Bay, California, on Opening Day, 1927 May 1
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (4 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative.; 1 black-and-white photographic print, 5 x 7 in. Photog. No. 2405. "COPYRIGHTED 5-5-27", "May 11, 1927" "OPG DAY 5-1-27" and "Yacht group No. 1 J290169" are written on the edge of the nitrate negative. "Walter A. Scott, San Francisco" is embossed on the lower right corner of the print.
Scope and Content Note
MARGARET E, II, in the foreground has a Vallejo Yacht Club burgee flying from a short mast near the bow, "3467" on the port hull and people visible on board. There are many yachts in the background, including AEOLIAN STAR ("Star (symbol) 165" visible on the sail), R Class yachts (possibly Lady V (sloop: yacht: R Class, No. 1) and FRANCESCA (built 1922; sloop: yacht: R Class, No. 6)) and other sloops, and a power yacht with a small embellishment on the bow. There are people visible on several vessels in the foreground. There are piers in the background and one has a building that says "LUCKENBACH."

Item No. 00284. Unidentified power yacht underway in San Francisco Bay, California, 1930 August 21

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).
Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 5 x 7 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. Photog. No. 2857
Scope and Content Note
Two people visible on board. A St. Francis Yacht Club burgee is flying from a short mast on the bow. A passenger vessel is in the background. Items 284 and 285 were both identified as "M.B." on the enclosure created by SAFR staff; however, they appear to be two different vessels. It is uncertain which one is M.B.
This photograph was likely taken during the Corinthian Yacht Club Annual Regatta. According to the Annual Report of the United States Coast Guard for the Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1931, page 23, the Corinthian Yacht Club annual regatta was held August 21-24, 1930.

Item No. 01606. Photograph of a painting created in 1911 of Cedarbank (built 1892; steel bark, 4m) underway, starboard broadside view, circa 1915

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.

Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).

Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in. There is masking tape on the negative.

Scope and Content Note

The painting was created in 1911, but it is unknown when W.A. Scott took a photograph of the painting. The painting is signed and dated "R.A. Borstel/1911" (lower left) and inscribed "Laidlaw & Harris/64 Union St. Pyrmont/Sydney NSW" (lower right).

Reginald Arthur Borstel (1875-1922) was born in Newtown, Sydney, Australia, the son of a master mariner. In his early years he was himself a sailor, serving for a time as chief mate aboard the full-rigged ship RABOTEL. Later he became one of several artists employed by the Adelaide Photo Company of Sydney to work from photographs of ships and create oil paintings showing them in brisk winds and whitecapped seas. Borstel worked on his own in later years and is recognized as one of the last Australian marine artists to be commissioned directly by ship captains and owners to document the last days of the great age of sail. He successfully bridged the gap from sail to steam, but most often he painted the last surviving windjammers, the great steel barques and barkentines engaged in the waning pacific trade. From his studio on King Street in Newtown, R.A., Borstel produced numerous ship portraits that became postcards, advertisements and sailing posters. CEDARBANK was a four-masted steel bark built in 1892 by Mackie & Thompson, in Glasgow, Scotland. She was rigged with royal sails over double top and topgallant sails. In June 1892, she was launched at the shipyard of Mackie & Thompson, Glasgow, for A. Weir & Co., Glasgow. The first master was Captain A.D. Moody. In 1893, the cargo of coal caught fire during a voyage, but the ship was saved due to the actions of the master. In January 1914, she was sold to A/S Olivebank (E. Monsen & Co.), Tvedestrand, Norway. Captain E. Abrahamsen. In September 1916 she was sold to Rederi A/S Cedarbank (Th. Brovig), Farsund (Norwegian company). On June 14, 1917, on a voyage from Savannah to Halifax to Raahus with a cargo of oil cakes, she was sunk by the German submarine U-100 in the North Sea. Item No. 01667. Photograph of a painting of Beechbank (built 1892; steel bark, 4m) underway, starboard broadside view, circa 1915

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.

Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).

Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 4.25 x 6.5 in. The glass plate negative is attached to another piece of glass using black masking tape.

Scope and Content Note

It appears that Wilhelm Hester took a photograph of this painting and created a photographic print (Hester's name can be seen on the mat board around the print). It then seems as if Walter A. Scott took a photograph of the print that Hester created. It is unknown when the painting was created and when either of the photographs were taken.

The painting was likely created between 1892-1916, since the vessel was renamed STOVEREN in 1916. (Source for information about BEECHBANK: http://www.clydesite.co.uk/clydebuilt/viewship.asp?id=17603)

Item No. 01668. Photograph of a painting of La Rochefoucauld (built 1899; bark, 3m) at sea, view off port quarter, circa 1915

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.

Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).

Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in. There is masking tape along the bottom edge of the negative.

Scope and Content Note

This is a photograph of the same painting as in SFMNHP Classified J07.27633 (credited to Wilhelm Hester). It appears that Wilhelm Hester took a photograph of this painting and created a photographic print. It then seems as if Walter A. Scott took a photograph of the print that Hester created. It is unknown when the painting was created and when either of the photographs were taken.

The painting was likely created between 1899-1917, since the vessel sunk in 1917. LA ROCHEFOUCAULD was built in 1899 by Ateliers & Chantiers De La Loire, Nantes, France, for Guillon R. & Fleury R. of Nantes. She was captured and sunk on February 27, 1917 by a German vessel (source: http://www.wrecksite.eu/wreck.aspx?133602)

Item No. 01669. Photograph of a painting of Svithiod (built 1881; bark, 4m) underway, starboard broadside view, circa 1915

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.

Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).

Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in.

Scope and Content Note

The painter and date of creation of this marine painting are unknown. It is also unknown when a photograph was taken of this painting. The vessel's name is visible on the mat board surrounding the photographic print.

The painting was likely created between 1905-1922, as these were the years that the vessel had the name SVITHIOD. This vessel was an iron four-masted bark originally built as ROUTENBURN in 1881 by Steel and Co. in Greencock for Shankland's Burns line. She was a sister ship to CRAIGBURN. She was sold in 1905 and renamed SVITHIOD, and became a sail training vessel under Norwegian ownership. In 1922, she was sold to Swedes and renamed BEATRICE. Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.

Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).

Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 4.25 x 6.5 in. The lower left corner is missing. There is a vertical crack on the left side of the plate. "Wilton, SF" written on the lower left corner of the painting. It appears as if the vessel name was written on the mat board surrounding the photographic print (the name is only partially visible).

Scope and Content Note

The painter and date of creation of this marine painting are unknown. It is also unknown when a photograph was taken of this painting.

The painting was likely created between 1901-1932. The French bark GENERAL DE SONIS was built in 1901 in Nantes, France. She was broken up September 1932. Item No. 02467. Photograph of a painting of Cambrian Queen (built 1868; full rigged ship, 3m) underway, starboard broadside view, 1880-1899, circa 1920-1925
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 8 x 10 in. There is masking tape on the glass plate negative. Photog. No. 26. "Cambrian Queen" is etched into the glass plate negative. "26" written in the lower right corner of the glass plate negative.
Scope and Content Note
There is a British flag flying from the jiggermast. There is a square rigged sailing vessel underway in the distance. The vessel was known as CAMBRIAN QUEEN from 1880-1899. The date of creation of this marine painting is unknown. It is also unknown when a photograph was taken of this painting.
Vessel History: The iron clipper CAMBRIAN QUEEN was originally named HOGHLY when she was launched in 1868. Built for George Stanton in Oswald's yard at Sunderland, she was registered at 1,336 tons gross (1,300 net) and measured 222 feet in length with a 37 foot beam. Intended for the Calcutta trade, "hence her name, she was sold within several years to G.C. Trufant of London who put her to work on the Australia run. Around 1880 she was sold again, this time to T. Williams & Co., the Welsh owners of the Cambrian Line. Renamed CAMBRIAN QUEEN, she went straight onto the company's Australian service, usually returning with a cargo of Newcastle coal to the Pacific coast of the U.S. and thence home with nitrates from South America. After twenty years sailing under Cambrian colors, she was sold to Norwegian owners in 1899 and at the same time cut down to a barque to save on crewing costs. Barely three years later, however, she was abandoned at sea in a sinking condition in December 1902. (Source: http://www.bonhams.com/auctions/15901/lot/41/)
File Unit 3. Photographs of photographs, 1877-1939

Extent: 24 photographs (27 physical forms).

Scope and Content Note

Contains photographs taken of photographs. Dates refer to when original photograph was taken, based on when the vessel existed and went by that name. Walter A. Scott is presumably the second photographer, and in most cases, the original photographer is unknown. Some of the photographs seem to have been taken by H.E. Horden, a San Francisco photographer who worked from 1902-1928. Some of them could also have been taken by T.H. Wilton. Underneath each vessel photograph, the vessel name is written and a number is assigned to the photograph as well (all in the same handwriting). It is unclear if this series of photographs were taken out of a publication or perhaps copied from one single photograph collection. There is also the possibility that these photographs were taken of prints in a photograph album (possibly P00-004).

The vessels in this group of photographs are barks, barkentines, and other sailing ships. Many of the vessels were either wrecked or disappeared at sea. Most of the glass plate negatives have been cataloged in the SFMNHP Classified photograph collection and the safety negatives have been cataloged in PB3-019a; it is unknown when they were separated from each other or why.

The following list is in photograph number order:

Photograph #1. Photograph of a photograph of JABEZ HOWES (built 1877; fully rigged ship, 3m) underway, view off starboard bow, 1877-1911. (Glass plate negative: J07.10722; Safety negative: J07.2014; No Items in PB3-019a)

Photograph #2. Photograph of a photograph of S.G. WILDER (built 1887; barkentine, 3m), view off port bow, 1887-1924. (Glass plate negative: J07.10725; No Items in PB3-019a)

Photograph #3. Photograph of a photograph of M.G. IRWIN (built 1881; brigantine) underway, port broadside view, 1881-1913. (Glass plate negative: J07.10728; Safety negative: PB3-019a.1730)

Photograph #4. Photograph of a photograph of SCOTTISH MINSTREL (built 1877; British iron ship, 3m) underway making sail off the Golden Gate, bow view, 1877-1910. (Glass plate negative: P78-436a.112; Safety negative: PB3-019a.1730)

Photograph #5. Photograph of a photograph of SCOTTISH GLENS (built 1885; full rigged ship, 3m) underway, view off starboard quarter, 1885-1924. (Glass plate negative: J07.10710; Safety negative and contact interpositive: J07.10691; No Items in PB3-019a)

Photograph #6. Photograph of a photograph of JAMES NESMITH (bark, 7m) underway, bow view, 1877-1912. (Glass plate negative: J07.10724; Safety negative: PB3-019a.1731) It is unclear how many masts the vessel has, as only the first two can clearly be seen.

Photograph #7. Photograph of a photograph of SERVIA (built 1883; steel ship, 3m) underway, view off starboard bow, 1883-1907. (Glass plate negative: J07.10720; Safety negative: J07.10696; No Items in PB3-019a)

Photograph #8. Photograph of a photograph of CROWN OF ENGLAND (built 1883; fully rigged ship, 3m), bow view, 1883-1912. (Glass plate negative: J07.10719; Safety negative: PB3-019a.1726)

Photograph #9. Photograph of a photograph of JESSIE MINOR (built 1883; schooner, 3m) underway with a deckload of lumber, starboard broadside view, 1883-1911. (Glass plate negative: J07.10727; Safety negative: PB3-019a.1732)

Photograph #10. Photograph of a photograph of OCEAN (bark, 3m) underway, starboard broadside view, circa 1890s-1920s. (Glass plate negative: J07.04331; Safety negative: PB3-019a.1735)

Photograph #11. Photograph of a photograph of A.M. BAXTER (schooner, 4m) underway making sail off the Golden Gate, starboard broadside view, circa 1890s-1920s. (Glass plate negative: P78-436a.116; No Items in PB3-019a)

Photograph #12. Photograph of a photograph of W.H. MACY (built 1883; ship, 3m) underway off the Golden Gate, starboard broadside view, circa 1890s-1920s. (Glass plate negative: P78-436a.115; Safety negative and print: PB3-019a.1740)

Photograph #13. SCOTTISH GLENS (built 1885; full rigged ship, 3m) underway, possibly in the San Francisco Bay, California, port broadside view, 1885-1924. B07.07272, J07.04343 and J07.10692 all contain the same image of SCOTTISH GLENS. It appears that B07.07272 (glass plate negative) in the wander collection might be the original image. J07.04343 and J07.10692 are both copies (contact positive and negative) of the original image and both have "SCOTTISH GLENS, 1st" written underneath the image (the handwriting underneath J07.10692 matches the handwriting on all the other negatives in this list). The summary note in J07.04343 said that this photograph possibly taken by T.H. Wilton; it is also possible (and probably more likely) that the photograph was taken by Worden. If it was taken by Worden, it would have been photographed between 1902 and 1924. (No Items in PB3-019a)

This wooden vessel was built as a full-rigged ship by E. Flye at Newcastle, Maine, in 1872 and of 1,438 tons. She was operated by Pope & Talbot in the lumber trade from 1887-1909. She was re-rigged as a bark in 1891. In 1909, CARONDELET was sold by Pope & Talbot to the Alaska Barge Co. for conversion to an ocean barge. In December 1911, the barge CARONDELET foundered near Prince Rupert. (Sources: Gordon Newell, Maritime Events of 1909, 1911; H.W. McCurdy Marine History of the Pacific Northwest., p. 162-63.)

W.G. IRWIN was built as a brigantine in 1881 for J.D. Spreckels as a Hawaii sugar packet. She was later transferred to the Oceanic Steamship Co., which was largely owned by the Spreckels family. In 1901, she was sold out of the Island trade to the Tacoma & Roche Harbor Lime Co. She was re-rigged as a three-masted schooner of 400 m capacity between September 1912 and July 1913. In 1917, she was sold for $28,000 to Capt. Alex Woodside for the offshore copra trade. She was taken over a year or so later by the Bank of Italy; and was laid up at San Francisco in July 1920, after arrival from Samoa. Two years later she was reported going to pieces rapidly, and was shortly thereafter sold to Famous-Players-Lasky and burned at Catalina, May 15, 1926. <td>Vessel History: INVERUGLAS was built in 1883 by R. Steele &amp; Co., of Greenock, Scotland and was 261 feet in length. After several years in the Australian trade, she was sold and renamed SIERRA LUCENA. In 1904, SIERRA LUCENA passed from British to Norwegian registry, and her name was changed to SOPHIE. She sailed under the Norwegian flag for nineteen years. In 1923, she was purchased by the &quot;Three Hours for Lunch Club&quot; (Americans in New York) and her name was changed to Tusitala (&quot;Story Teller&quot;), a name originally conferred by the Samoans upon Robert Louis Stevenson. The change of flags took place at New York on June 26, 1923, and she was christened by Mr. Will H. Lou, artist, and an old friend of &quot;R. L. S.&quot; She was famed in the 1920s as the only sailing vessel in the world operated year-round in an ocean route. In 1924, Tusitala was purchased by James A. Farrell, Sr. (President of U. S. Steel Corp.) and, starting in 1925, her master was Captain James P. Barker (a former British shipmaster). The vessel was decommissioned in 1932. Tusitala was the last American sailing ship that remained in the trade between Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States. She was transferred to the U. S. Coast Guard as a training ship in 1939 and used as a receiving ship in St. Petersburg in 1940. The ship was finally scrapped in Mobile, Alabama in 1947. <td>The unidentified woman standing in the middle likely has the initials V.A. (according to the annotation on the negative). WILHELMINA was a Matson Line merchant vessel built by the Newport News Shipbuilding &amp; Drydock Co., of Newport News, Virginia. She was one of a series of Matson combination passenger-cargo ships with their engines and funnels aft, producing a distinctive profile. WILHELMINA was launched on September 18, 1909, and completed on December 7, 1909. She entered Matson’s San Francisco-Honolulu service on February 10, 1910. WILHELMINA served as a World War I troopship from 1917 to 1919, and on Matson’s Portland-Seattle-Honolulu service from 1928 to 1930. She made her last passenger-carrying trip in 1932, being used solely for cargo thereafter. In the late 1930s she was laid up in San Francisco, California, until sold to a British company in 1940. While a part of a convoy sailing from Halifax, Nova Scotia, to Liverpool, England, she was sunk by U-94 on December 2, 1940. Item No. 00838. Ohioan (built 1914; freighter) underway in San Francisco Bay, California, port broadside view, 1914-1936

Creator/Collector: Ingram

Extent: 1 photograph (3 physical forms).

Physical Description: 1 nitrate negative, 8 x 10 in.; 1 contact interpositive; 1 contact negative. There is black masking tape adhered to the nitrate negative. Photog. No. 5. "#5" is written on the lower left corner of the photograph.

Scope and Content Note

This photograph was copied from another photograph. This appears to be the same photograph as P79-092a.63, which was taken by Ingram of Long Beach, California. "OHIOAN" visible on the hull.

This vessel was built in 1914 by Maryland Steel Co. at Sparrows Pt., Maryland, for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co. and was the first A-H vessel to have this name. She was delivered on July 16, 1914, and was an Isherwood type vessel. On October 7, 1936, OHIOAN, loaded with explosives and oil, was trying to enter the port of San Francisco in fog, when she ran aground off Point Lobos. All crew members were saved and the wreck attracted a lot of spectators. The cargo was salvaged, but the wreck was left in situ. OHIOAN's hulk caught fire in March 1937, and the wreck broke into two pieces in a storm in December. By 1939, only some remnants were still visible. <td>Scope and Content Note: The ship’s officers appear to be Japanese. The men are possibly part of a crew that brought a Japanese built freighter across the Pacific to the United States. (Reasoning: In 1920, Walter A. Scott took photographs of the crew members of EASTERN BELLE (built 1919; freighter) in San Francisco. These crew members brought the vessel across the Pacific from Japan. EASTERN BELLE was built for the U.S. Shipping Board (Mull No. 201; Contract No. 348) at the Ishikawajima Shipyard in Japan. (See Classified A01.05894, A09.05895, A09.05896, A01.06008, and P51.05896 for W.A. Scott photographs of EASTERN BELLE and her crew in 1920)). Many vessels named EASTERN ____ were built for the U.S. Shipping Board in Japan from 1915-1920. Vessel names include EASTERN BELLE, EASTERN COAST, EASTERN CROWN, EASTERN GALE, EASTERN GUIDE, EASTERN LEADER, EASTERN MAID, EASTERN MOON, EASTERN TRADER, and EASTERN VICTOR. Builders include: Uraga, Fujinagata, Harima Ishikawajima, Kawasaki, Nitta, Yokohama, Asano, Mitsubishi, Uchida, Osaka) (Source: Pacific Marine Review, Volume 17, page 72, accessed from http://books.google.com/books?id=XXk-AQAAIAAJ&amp;lpg=RA5-PA82&amp;ots=0TvaMq-XK0o&amp;dq=Ishikawajima%20Shipyard%20in%20Japan%22&amp;pg=RA5-PA82#v=onepage&amp;q=Ishikawajima%20Shipyard%20in%20Japan%20%22eastern%20belle%22&amp;f=false)</td>

Scope and Content Note

"SHERMAN" can be seen on the port bow, and there appears to be writing above it (presumably "U.S. ARMY TRANSPORT"). Many people visible on board (presumably troops?). This vessel was originally built as the freighter MOBILE by Harland & Wolff, Belfast, for the African Steamship Company (Elder Dempster & Company). She was launched on November 17, 1892; delivered July 27, 1893. She was first chartered by the Atlantic Transport Line and then purchased by it in October of 1896. She is recorded in the Morton Allan Directory of European Passenger Steamship Arrivals making 44 voyages to New York for the Atlantic Transport Line between August 1892 and December 1897.

In 1898, MOBILE was bought by the U.S. Government for service as a transport during the Spanish-American War. This particular vessel was purchased on July 14 for $660,000, converted in New York, and given the number 1, "in accordance with the policy adopted of changing the names of foreign vessels to designated numbers after they come into the possession of the United States." She was not converted in time to serve during the war, but was retained afterwards for the new Army transport service, for which she was renamed SHERMAN.

SHERMAN made an excellent transport because she could accommodate 80 officers, 1,000 men and 1,000 horses as well as a high volume of cargo including refrigerated meat. She was allocated to the Pacific fleet and served on its regular San Francisco to Manila service. When SHERMAN returned to San Francisco from the Philippines with California's regiment of soldiers, she was the cause of the first working wireless signals in America. The city had planned a big celebration for the soldiers upon their return. But nobody knew when the troopship would arrive. George Otis Mitchell, a physics teacher at Girl's High School, had experimented with wireless telegraphy and suggested that if a wireless transmitter were put onboard the lightship San Francisco (which Sherman would have to pass), a lookout could report the sighting to a receiver located in the city who would then pick up the message and relay it via telephone lines. The idea was taken up and it worked extremely well.

SHERMAN took an active role in the Philippine Insurrection, the Boxer Rebellion, and World War One. She sailed on one voyage to Vladivostok and Trieste in December 1918 to collect Czech soldiers of war who had marched across Russia with the Red army in hot pursuit and in 1920 she carried American athletes from New York to compete in the Olympic Games in Antwerp.

In 1922 SHERMAN was bought by the Los Angeles Steamship Company for $60,000 and rebuilt as a cabin liner for their Los Angeles to Hawaii service by the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry-dock Company at a cost of $300,000. The ship, renamed CALAWAII, now had accommodation for 178 first class and 52 third class passengers, and evidently proved to be a popular liner. In 1932, she was laid up and the following year she towed the burned out CITY OF HONOLULU to Osaka, where both ships were scrapped in 1933.

Physical Description: 1 safety negative, 5 x 7 in.

Scope and Content Note
This safety negative is a close up copy created from the glass plate negative in the SFMNHP Classified photograph collection, B07.10075.

COQUILLE RIVER was a wooden steam schooner built in 1896 at Prosper, Oregon, by William Muller and C. Christensen. She weighed 415 tons and measured 141 long by 34 wide by 10 feet deep. With a 260 h.p. compound engine built by William Deacon Iron Works in San Francisco, she could carry 400,000 board feet of lumber. Owned first by Sudden & Christenson of San Francisco, COQUILLE RIVER was sold in 1905 to Swayne & Hoyt of San Francisco and in 1908 to National Steamship Company, owned by Union Lumber Company of Fort Bragg. In 1925, the ship was sold again to Russell J. Hubbard of Marshfield, Oregon and renamed WINCHESTER. She was eventually abandoned at Oakland Creek in Alameda in 1933. File Unit 8. Madrono (built 1884; polar exploration vessel) Arctic exploration trip, 1928

Extent: 17 photographs (19 physical forms).
Scope and Content Note:
Contains photographs taken during the MADRONO’s Arctic exploration trip of 1928. No information could be found about this trip.

Vessel History: MADRONO was built by John H. Dialogue in Camden, New Jersey, and designed as an inspection tender for service. She was launched in 1884, commissioned on September 14, 1885, and arrived in San Francisco, California, in January 1886. She was the third tender to serve in the Pacific and was a replacement for the tender SHUBRICK. During her career, she had two service launches assigned to her, HAZEL and MADRONO.

MADRONO was acquired by the U.S. Navy on November 27, 1917, and returned to the Department of Commerce July 1, 1919. She remained in service until October 11, 1927, when she was sold. She was used as a polar exploration vessel in 1928 (possibly other dates as well but this could not be confirmed). In 1941, she was acquired by the U.S. Army and renamed COLONEL CHARLES L. WILLARD. Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in. Photog. No. 14
Scope and Content Note
The coastline is in view on the right. It appears that Helmet Rock is in the middle of the photograph. There is a hilly terrain in the distance, across the water. Fort Point is also visible in the distance.
| Box 47 | Item No. 01661. Beach and a large rock close to shore with a painted inscription, at Lands End, San Francisco, California, with a schooner in the distance, circa 1900 |
| Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A. |
| Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form). |
| Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in. Photog. No. 22 |
| Scope and Content Note: The coastline is partially in view on the left. The inscribed rock might be known today as Helmet Rock, and is on the left side of the photograph. Items 1621-1625, 1635 and 1661 show different views of the rock with the painted inscription. |

| Box 47 | Item No. 01662. Lady Mine (built 1880; schooner, 2m; pilot vessel, No. 9) underway near Lands End, San Francisco, California, with waves crashing on a large rock in the foreground, 1900 |
| Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A. |
| Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form). |
| Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in. Photog. No. 16. “SCOTT ’00” written on the edge of the glass plate negative. |
| Scope and Content Note: The pilot vessel has “9” on one of the sails. Item 1641 shows the same vessel underway. |
| Related Material: SFHNHP Classified A12.05414 (photographer’s number: 9), B11.10607 and P78-436 (no Item number - last glass plate in the box), both Walter A. Scott photographs of LADY MINE, as seen from Lands End. |

| Box 47 | Item No. 01663. Lurline Pier at Ocean Beach, San Francisco, California, during sunset, circa 1900 |
| Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A. |
| Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form). |
| Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in. Photog. No. 17 |
| Scope and Content Note: The Lurline Pier (1894-1967) was located on Ocean Beach between Balboa and Anza streets. It was sometimes called the “Olympic Club Pier” because of an intake pipe for pumping saltwater to the old Lurline Baths and Olympic Club pools downtown, hence the two names. The pier lasted until the 1960s and formed the southern boundary of the stretch of beach that surfers still call “Kelly’s Cove”. Item No. 01711. Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, California, circa 1900

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in.

Scope and Content Note

There are many trees and plants in the foreground. Walter A. Scott lived very close to the Memorial Museum (about a ten minute walk from his home at 1234 10th Avenue). This building was constructed in Golden Gate Park for the California Midwinter International Exposition in 1894 as the Fine Arts Building. The chair of the exposition organizing committee was Michael H. de Young, co-founder of the San Francisco Chronicle. The Fine Arts Building was designed in a pseudo-Egyptian Revival style and decoratively adorned with images of Hathor, the cow goddess. Following the exposition, the building was designated as a Memorial Museum for the people of San Francisco (memorial to the Midwinter Exposition). Eleven years after the museum opened, the great earthquake of 1906 caused significant damage to the Midwinter Fair building, forcing a year-and-a-half closure for repairs.

As their collections grew, it became clear that they would need a larger space. Michael de Young responded by planning the building that would serve as the core of the de Young Museum facility through the 20th century. Louis Christian Mullgardt, the coordinator for architecture for the 1915 Panama-Pacific Exposition, designed the Spanish-Plateresque-style building. It was completed in 1919 and formally transferred by de Young to the city's park commissioners. In 1921, de Young added a central section, together with the tower that would become the museum's signature feature, and the museum began to assume the basic configuration that it retained until 2001. Michael de Young's great efforts were honored with the changing of the museum's name to the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum. Yet another addition, a west wing, was completed in 1925, the year de Young died. Just four years later, the original Egyptian-style building was declared unsafe and demolished. By the end of the 1940s, the elaborate cast concrete ornamentation of the original de Young was determined to be a hazard and removed because the salt air from the Pacific had rusted the supporting steel. Box 73
Item No. 02476. Civic Center area of San Francisco, California, possibly looking west along Fell Street or Grove Street, circa 1912-1915
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 8 x 10 in.
Scope and Content Note
The Newton J. Tharp Commercial School building (three story brick building) is in the middle of the photograph. It was originally built at Grove and Polk Streets, but it was moved to Fell and Franklin Streets circa 1912-1913. The building is resting on top of wooden beams. An empty lot is next to it in the background as well as an empty lot in the foreground. There are many advertisements on walls and buildings nearby, including: Scottish Hall; Carnation; Silko cigarettes; Shainwald Buckbee & Co; Geo. E. Gallagher, hatters; Schussler Bros; Fredericksburg beer; and some plays being advertised for April of an unknown year, including one for Sunday April 20. There was a Sunday April 20 in the years: 1902, 1913, and 1915.

Box 73
Item No. 02477. Civic Center area of San Francisco, California, looking northwest from along Franklin Street, with a view of McCay’s Candy, Ice Cream and Stationary store and the early construction of the San Francisco Opera House, 1918-1928
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 8 x 10 in.
Scope and Content Note
McCay’s Candy, Ice Cream and Stationary store is on the left and the Burlington Hotel might be next door to it. Hotel Carlton, Hotel Brown and the Glasgow Apartments are in the background. There are many advertisements on walls and buildings nearby, including: Pabst Blue Ribbon beer and Goodrich Tires.
There is an empty lot in the foreground on the right with a sign on it that says: 'Site of San Francisco Opera House/ Part of Civic Center/ Building the gift of generous Citizens.' In 1927, $4 million in municipal bonds were issued to finance the design and construction of the San Francisco Opera House (the first municipally owned opera house in the United States). The architects of the building complex were Arthur Brown Jr., who had designed City Hall between 1912 and 1916, and G. Albert Lansburgh, a theater designer responsible for San Francisco’s Orpheum and the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles. The Opera House was completed in 1932.
The previous envelope created by SAFR staff said: "San Francisco Civic Center area, looking northwest from along Larkin Street" but this appears to be incorrect, as the future site of the San Francisco Opera House is on the right side of the photograph, which would make this view looking down Franklin.
Item No. 02478. Civic Center area of San Francisco, California, looking southwest from along Larkin Street, toward the Masonic Temple at Van Ness and Oak Streets, at Market Street, 1913 or 1919?

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 8 x 10 in.
Scope and Content Note

There is a large empty lot in the foreground. The Masonic Temple (built 1911-1913) is in the background on the left. Hotel Oak, St. Cecile Hotel, and Kelly's Garage and Shop are in the background. There are many advertisements on walls and buildings nearby, including: The Log Cabin; Bohemian Lager; Owl Cigar; Locomobile; Welsbach Supplies; and the Grand Ball of the French Colony for Saturday April 26 of an unknown year. There was a Saturday April 26 in the years: 1902, 1913, 1919, 1924 and 1930.

Item No. 02479. Civic Center area of San Francisco, California, with the foundations of several buildings under construction in the foreground, circa 1915

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 8 x 10 in.
Scope and Content Note

The foundations of several unidentified buildings are under construction in the foreground. The San Francisco Hall of Records (the domed building) is on the right. The Argyle Apartments are also on the right.

Hotel Lincoln is in the background on the left. There were two Hotel Lincolns listed in the 1915 Crocker-Langley San Francisco City Directory; one was at 365 Golden Gate Avenue and this is likely the hotel in the background of this photograph (1915 Crocker-Langley San Francisco City Directory, page 962). This would mean that the photograph was taken on Fulton Street, McAllister Street or Grove Street looking northeast.

Item No. 02480. Man posing with a 3-cylinder compound steamer engine from crankshaft end, on the erecting floor at Union Iron works, Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, San Francisco, California, circa 1915-1925

Physical Description: 1 glass plate positive, 8 x 10 in., in a metal frame
File Unit 3. Point Reyes Trip, 1900 February 11

Extent: 11 photographs (11 physical forms).

Scope and Content Note
Contains photographs of people on a trip to Point Reyes, California. The original box that held the negatives from this trip is stored in Box 49. It has Walter A. Scott’s annotations on the front and back. Some photographs in this File Unit say that they were taken at "Hosmer's place." This possibly refers to Harry B. Hosmer, although this could not be confirmed.

Harry B. Hosmer was a member of the San Francisco Elks Lodge in 1900, and since Walter A. Scott was a member as well, perhaps the photographs in this File Unit are of an Elks outing, or just an outing because they were friends (Source: San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 153, 22 April 1900, page 27).

Hosmer was also a hunter, and several newspaper articles at the time these photographs were taken list him as hunting near the Point Reyes area. In January 1900, H.B. Hosmer was noted as duck hunting at the Olympic Gun Club preserve. In October 1900, H. B. Hosmer and W.J. Street were part of a duck hunting club (either the Field and Tule Club in Cordelia or the Point Reyes Sportsman Club in Point Reyes, which were both established in October 1900). (Sources: San Francisco Call, Volume 86, Number 164, 11 November 1899, page 8; San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 58, 27 January 1900, page 5; San Francisco Call, Volume 87, Number 128, 6 October 1900, page 4)

Item No. 01192. Unidentified man, possibly Mr. Hosmer, standing on the ladder of a water pumping windmill near a water tank in Point Reyes, California, 1900 February 11
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 4 x 5 in.
Scope and Content Note
There are two other people in the background; one is taking a photograph and there is a strong chance that the other person is taking a photograph as well.

Box 31
Item No. 01193. Group of women and children, possibly including Mrs. Street, near the shore at Point Reyes, California, with a water tank in the background, 1900 February 11
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 4 x 5 in.
Scope and Content Note
There are five women (or possibly four women and one female child) and three young boys. There is possibly an animal near the water (near the shore of Point Reyes creek?). A camera set up in the background. Possibly "at Hosmer's?" according to notation on the previous envelope created by SAFR staff.

Box 31
Item No. 01194. Point Reyes Creek and surrounding marsh land, Point Reyes, California, 1900 February 11

Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in.
Scope and Content Note
There appears to be a large bird in the creek.

Box 49
Item No. 01714. Two men climbing on a water pumping windmill at Point Reyes, California, while two women look up at them from below, 1900 February 11
Creator/Collector: Scott, Walter A.
Extent: 1 photograph (1 physical form).
Physical Description: 1 glass plate negative, 5 x 7 in.
Scope and Content Note
One man is standing on the windmill ladder near the top, and the other man is hanging from a horizontal rope attached to the windmill (it is unknown what the other end is attached to, but possibly the water tank). The man hanging from the rope is wearing a hat and cowboy boots. There is a sign on the windmill that reads: "[first part obscured] & Little, Agents, GEM, San Francisco, Cal"; the full sign very likely is for Woodin & Little of 312 and 314 Market Street, San Francisco, who produced GEM steel windmills at this time. The Paraffine Paint Company was established in 1884 in San Francisco by Truman Pierce and Melvin Beardsley. The partners produced P&B Paint, asphalt paint that waterproofed and preserved wood and metal. The company began producing waterproof roofing and building papers in the 1890s. The 1906 earthquake brought an increased demand for building materials and the company added new products. In 1912, Paraffine began diversifying and purchasing companies unrelated to paint and building materials. By 1918, the company owned eight subsidiaries that it incorporated into Paraffine Companies, Inc. Paraffine Paint was used on the Golden Gate Bridge. Just prior to World War II, the company expanded into new manufacturing lines including insulation materials, fiber shipping cases, glass bottles, corrugated cartons, and paper pails and cartons. With eleven manufacturing plants, the company changed its name to PABCO. By 1956, the Emeryville site had nine manufacturing plants in and outside of California. PABCO closed the Emeryville plant in 1972. (Sources: LSA Associates, Inc.
