Introduction
This series of photographs is related to the 1968-1969 San Francisco State University Student and Faculty strike. Included in this collection are photographs of the United Professors of California (UPC) members and activities during the early 1980's. In 1987 Tim Sampson, instructor of Social Work Education at SF State and former President of the San Francisco State UPC Local #1352, donated four boxes of documents relating to Union activity between 1967 and 1982. Upon arrival to the Labor Archives the photographs were removed from the collection and placed in the LARC photographic collection.

History
The San Francisco Strike officially began on November 6, 1968 when the Black Student Union in conjunction with the Third World Liberation Front called for a mass student strike in protest to the suspension of English instructor and Black Panther Party member George Murray. San Francisco State AFT faculty went on strike on January 6, 1969. Strike issues ranged from long standing grievances over workloads to more immediate matters of threatened civil liberties and academic freedom. The faculty strike lasted two months and was the longest teacher’s strike in the history of California to that date. For further information on the history of the UPC or other UPC/AFT documents relating to the strike please refer to the Timothy J. Sampson Collection Accession no. 1987/59 in the Descriptive Guide for the textual collections.

Scope and Content

This collection is arranged in sixteen folders with attention paid to original order and grouping upon arrival to the Labor Archives. Each folder lists a subject heading and contains several subheadings listed in the descriptive guide. Photographers and identified individuals are also documented in each folder. Subheadings are provided to aid researchers in a more detailed description of images in each folder.

The first portion of the photographs #1 though #208 (folders 1 though 13) consists of prints and contact sheets documenting the days of the strike. These photographs were taken roughly between November 1968 to February 1969. The second portion of the collection #209 to #362 (folders 14 through 16) document UPC participants and organizing activities in the late 1970’s and early 1980’s.

Folders 1 through 5 are photographs that had previously belonged to the UPC and AFT archives. Folder 6 was grouped separately upon arrival but also documents the strike. Folders 7 through 13 are contact sheets of the strike documented by 13 photographers. Folders 14 through 16 are of UPC members and are grouped into original order.

Negatives

There are 19 sets of negatives that correspond with photographic prints in the collection. These negatives are housed in a separate location in the Labor Archives and can be found in box NEGATIVES 1987/59 #1-19. Each photograph that corresponds with a negative will have the negative grouping listed on the lower right corner on the back of the photograph.
