Historical Note
Established in 1961 by filmmakers Bruce Baillie and Chick Strand in the community of Canyon CA, Canyon Cinema has consistent force in the development of independent, avant-garde, personal and counter-cultural filmmaking at the local, national and international levels. Originally a peripatetic film exhibition venue, Canyon Cinema published THE CANYON CINEMANEWS from 1962 through 1982 (and briefly in the mid-'90s). Since 1967 the primary activity of the collective has been the distribution of works by filmmaker members, for rental and sale, primarily in the 16mm, VHS and DVD formats. Works distributed by Canyon remain the property of the artists.

Scope and Contents
The records of Canyon Cinema, dating from 1962 to 2009 are arranged in five series: Series 1. Publications, Series 2. Filmmakers, Series 3. Administrative records, Series 4. Exhibition records, Series 5. Collected ephemera, and Series 6. Media. These records document the business activities of Canyon Cinema in its capacities as a film distributor, as a film exhibitor and as a publisher of the journal, THE CANYON CINEMANEWS. Files include the complete body of publications created by Canyon Cinema, including THE CANYON CINEMANEWS and all distribution catalogs, well as filmmaker correspondence, business records and exhibition records. Additionally, this collection contains material created outside the organization and collected by it during its years of operation, including publications, exhibition records and artists’ ephemera documenting the field of independent filmmaking and exhibition.
