Scope and Contents
Lorraine García-Nakata is a California-based visual artist who has exhibited locally, nationally, and internationally. She was born in 1950 in Yuba City, California, and is a third-generation descendant of Mexican immigrants. She is also deeply involved with art administration, including work with the Mexican Museum, Yerba Buena Center and Children’s Book Press, and serving on the SF Arts Commission.

The Lorraine García-Nakata collection encompasses her work as a visual artist, musician, writer, community/arts cultural specialist, and arts administrator. Materials include art catalogues, awards, day planners, photographs, slides, administrative files, meeting minutes, artwork, media, and other material. There is also a great deal of art by other artists (some of which by students of hers), others are posters silkscreens serving as art, event publicity, and political and cultural statements.
