Title: Christopher A. Reynolds Collection of Women's Song
Date (inclusive): circa 1800-1985
Extent: 15.3 linear feet
Abstract: Christopher A. Reynolds, Professor of Music at the University of California, Davis, has identified and collected sheet music written by women composers active in North America and England. This collection contains over 3000 songs and song publications mostly published between 1850 and 1950. The collection is primarily made up of songs, but there are also many works for solo piano as well as anthems and part songs. In addition there are books written by the women song composers, a letter written by Virginia Gabriel in the 1860s, and four letters by Mrs. H.H.A. Beach to James Francis Cooke from the 1920s.
Physical location: Researchers should contact Special Collections to request collections, as many are stored offsite.
Repository: University of California, Davis. General Library. Dept. of Special Collections.

Biography
Christopher A. Reynolds received his PhD from Princeton University. He is Professor of Music at the University of California, Davis and author of Papal Patronage and the Music of St. Peter's, 1380-1513 (1995) and Motives for Allusion: Context and Content in Nineteenth-Century Music (2003). He avidly began to research and collect women's songs in 1993.
Scope and Content
Professor Reynolds' description of his collection:
This collection of songs composed by women includes classical, light classical, and popular compositions. It is housed in Shields Library, Special Collections, at the Univer-sity of California, Davis. It currently contains over 3000 songs and song publications that were published or hand copied between the late 1790s and ca. 1960. The collection is primarily of songs, but there are also some works for solo piano as well as anthems and part songs. There are books written by the composers, and several letters: one written by Virginia Gabriel in the 1860s, one by Kate Vannah to a Mr. Burbank (1894), and four by Mrs. H. H. A. Beach to James Francis Cooke from the 1920s.
The collection also includes volumes from the 19th century of songs that were bound for women. These include Mary George's music book, copied between 1824-30, and Maria Sanford's music book. This volume contains seventeen songs, the earliest dating from ca. 1819, most from 1825-31. Four covers have lithographs by John Pendleton; five were engraved by Thomas Birch. There is also a deluxe volume of songs and artistic prints from about 1832 composed and painted by Hortense, the wife of Louis Napoleon, King of Holland and brother of Napoleon.
The best represented composers in the collection are: Carrie Jacobs Bond (with 119 songs and song publications), Liza Lehmann (103), Amy Woodforde-Finden (63), Lily Strickland (63), Jessie L. Gaynor (58), Elinor Remick Warren (52), May Brahe (51), Teresa Del Riego (51), Clare Kummer (51), Cecile Chaminade (48), Vee Lawnhurst (40), Clara Edwards (36), Maude Valerie White (36), Margaret Ruthven Lang (35), Emma Louis Ashford (33), Guy d'Hardelot (33), Blanche M. Tice (30), Alice Nadine Morrison (29), Vaughan De Leath (26), Mana Zucca (24), Ann Ronell (24), and Harriet Ware (24). These totals count multiple editions of some songs.
This collection includes fifty songs that were owned by Eleanor Lee Kingman, the grandmother of Christopher Reynolds. A native Californian, she was born in Pomona in 1893 and died there in 1990, having lived much of her adult life in Palos Verdes Estates. Before she married Alan Kingman in 1923, she had studied voice in Los Angeles and then in New York City with Frank La Forge. There she lived for two years as the com-panson of the Californian pianist and composer, Elinor Remick Warren. She then taught voice at Pomona College and for a year at the University of Oregon in Eugene. Addition-ally, the collection has songs that were owned by her husband Alan Kingman (7), his sister, Edith Kingman (5), and her aunt Elizabeth Lee (1). Eleanor Lee Kingman also owned many songs by her friend Elinor Remick Warren, including four autograph manuscript copies. There are also two songs in the hand of Amy Worth, one of her own songs and one by Elinor Remick Warren.
Many songs were signed by the composers, among these are Florence Newell Barbour, Caroline Adelaide Dance, Augusta Holmes, Alice Nadine Morrison, Annie W. Patterson, Kate Vannah, Elinor Remick Warren, and Mana Zucca.
Professor Reynolds' project, "Women Song Composers: A Listing of Songs Published in the United States and the British Commonwealth, ca. 1890-1930" and a searchable database containing references to 15,400 songs by 1580 composers may be found on Merritt, a repository of the California Digital Library.
