Collection Scope and Content Summary
The collection comprises materials from commencement ceremonies of the University of California, Irvine (UCI), including printed copies and sound recordings of commencement addresses, informational brochures for graduates, event programs, and handbooks provided to individuals who presided over or presented at commencement ceremonies held at the Bren Events Center. It also contains video recordings of ceremonies, cloth flags used to identify participating groups, and a cloth banner used to adorn the stage during the ceremonies. The handbooks include scripts of welcome speeches and introductions, diagrams of the seating arrangements on stage, and instructions for persons officiating and speaking at the ceremonies. The collection contains scripts and transcripts of some commencement speeches. A "script" is a document containing the text of what a speaker intended to say while delivering his or her speech. A "transcript" is a document in which the speech has been transcribed verbatim after it has been delivered to the audience. The collection also contains digital photographs of commencement ceremonies.
Collection Arrangement
This collection is arranged first by format and then chronologically. Accession 2016.001, an unprocessed addition, is listed at the end.
Related Collections
Related documentation can be found in AS-113 University of California, Irvine Commencement Photographs. UCI commencement programs are shelved separately in Special Collections and Archives, and cataloged in the library's online catalog ANTPAC.
