Biography/History
The collection was acquired by Marcia L. Meldrum, Ph.D., a researcher in the UCLA Department of History and part of UCLA’s Center for Health Services and Society. Meldrum began collecting materials in 2008, with the aim of documenting the recent history of Mental Health Services in California and Los Angeles County. Materials were obtained from three main sources: Mental Health Advocacy Services (MHAS), a Los Angeles-based non-profit organization which provides legal advocacy to mental health clients; the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (LACDMH); and patient advocacy organizations related to the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), of which California has significant chapters. The physical collection is a supplement to an interpretive website (http://histpubmh.semel.ucla.edu/) created by UCLA’s Center for the Study of Public Mental Health in a collaboration between UCLA and LACDMH.

Scope and Content

Materials in the collection range from 1963-2010, with the bulk of material dating from ca. 1980-2006. The collection consists of court documents, correspondence and memorandums, newsletters, reports, journal articles, newspaper clippings, photographs, audiovisual materials, and ephemera related to mental health patient advocacy and mental health treatment in California and Los Angeles County. There is a particularly strong subject focus on community-based treatment approaches and recovery, and Proposition 63, the Mental Health Services Act of 2004, which increased funding to county mental health programs and transformed service delivery models. A significant portion of the collection pertains to the 1979-1987 court case MENTAL HEALTH ASSOCIATION IN CALIFORNIA et al., Plaintiffs and Appellants, v. GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, as Governor, etc., et al., Defendants and Respondents, which sought state funding for least restrictive treatment settings and community-based mental health services. In addition to professional, administrative, and scholarly materials, there are notable personal items such as correspondence to advocacy organizations from the family members of patients, detailed case histories, and an assortment of published poetry, creative writing, and art by the mentally ill and their family and friends.

Materials were obtained from Mental Health Advocacy Services (MHAS), Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (LACDMH), and patient advocacy organizations related to the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), including Parents of Adult Schizophrenics (PAS), with additional advocacy material from Mental Health America (MHA) and Project Return Players.

Scope and Content
Items comprising this series were obtained from Mental Health Advocacy Services (MHAS), and consist of materials pertaining to the 1979-1987 court case MENTAL HEALTH ASSOCIATION IN CALIFORNIA et al., Plaintiffs and Appellants, v. GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, as Governor, etc., et al., Defendants and Respondents. MHAS’s Executive Director, James J. Preis, served as counsel for the plaintiffs along with attorneys from the Western Center on Law and Poverty. Plaintiffs and appellants were The Mental Health Association in California, a California nonprofit corporation; The Mental Health Association in Los Angeles County, a California association; and Linda Blake Gledhill, a taxpayer. Defendants and Respondents were George Deukmejian, in his official capacity as Governor of the State of California; Michael O’Connor, in his official capacity as Director of the Department of Mental Health for the State of California; Gary Macomber, in his official capacity as Director of Developmental Services for the State of California; David B. Swope, in his official capacity as Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency of the State of California; Jesse Huff, in his official capacity as the Director of the Department of Finance for the State of California; the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County; County of Los Angeles; and J. Richard Elpers, M.D., in his official capacity as the Director of Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health. The suit was originally filed against Governor Edmund “Jerry” Brown, et al in an effort to seek state funding for the creation of “least restrictive” treatment settings as an alternative to treatment at state mental health facilities, namely Camarillo and Metropolitan State Hospitals. Plaintiffs argued that this funding was constitutionally mandated and consistent with the intention the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act (LPS) of 1967 which was to end inappropriate and involuntary inpatient treatment. Items in this series include legal documents and background research materials dating from 1978-1989.

Organization and Arrangement
Items are arranged alphabetically, with the exception of Subseries 1.1: Legal Documents, which is first arranged chronologically. Every effort was made to retain the original alphanumeric and item number filing schemas, and indexes to these systems can be found in Box 11, Folder 19; Box 11, Folder 20; Box 12, Folder 7; Box 14, Folder 18; Box 15, Folder 5; and Box 16, Folder 6.

Scope and Content
This subseries consists of legal documents dating from 1979-1987 and includes briefs, motions, trial transcripts, depositions, legal correspondence, memorandums, subpoenas, testimonies, appeal documents, trial exhibits, several photos of exhibits, and other assorted case documents. Of particular interest are the testimonies of Michael O’Connor, Director of the Department of Mental Health for the State of California, and John Richard Elpers, M.D., Director of Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health.

Series 2: Documents of Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (LACDMH). 1963-2009.

Scope and Content
The Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (LACDMH) was created in 1960 as a result of the California State Legislature's 1957 Short-Doyle Act. Prior to this, the State of California had sole responsibility for the provision of care to the mentally ill, and did so via a network of 14 state hospitals. As of 2012, LACDMH contracts with approximately 1,000 service providers and serves over 250,000 clients annually, making it the largest county mental health department in the United States. Items comprising this series date from 1963-2009, with the bulk of material dating from the 2000s. Included are printed publications, correspondence and memorandum, newspaper clippings, and ephemera. Particularly rich offerings relate to the Mental Health Services Act (MHSA) which was passed as Proposition 63 by California voters in 2004 and increased funding for county mental health services, with an emphasis on wellness and recovery; and a collection of Minds and Matters, LACDMH's departmental newsletter. In addition, there are memorandums and publications from Dr. Areta Crowell, Director of LACDMH 1991-1988; Kirsten Barlow (Deichert), Legislative and Public Information Officer at LACDMH 2004-2006; Kumar Menon, LACDMH Community and Government Relations 2000s; Dr. Donald A. Schwartz, LACDMH Deputy Director in the 1960s; and Suzane Wilbur RN, Program Director for the South Bay AMI/A Better Life Endeavor Program (AMI/ABLE). A small amount of material in this series relates to the California Department of Mental Health and the mental health departments of Orange, Sacramento, and Stanislaus counties.
