Biography/History
Scottish photographer of Dundee, well-known for portraits and landscape view. James Valentine, joined in his studio by his sons, William Dobson Valentine, and George D. Valentine, targeted the middle and upper class tourist market, producing drawing room albums of landscapes of Scotland, and later, England, Jamaica, Norway, Morocco, and New Zealand.

Scope and Content
The photographs document the architecture of Lude House, its formal gardens, with summer house, stables, and workers' cottages. Views of nearby lakes and mountains, including Loch Moraig and Ben y Glowe, the falls on the River Fender, and rapids on the Tilt. The final 10 photos document a deerstalking party, which includes Mr. W.L. Winans, his son Mr. Walter Winans, and Mr. Edward Kennard, beginning with the departure of the entourage of horses, dogs, gamekeepers, and hunters from Forest Lodge, the lunch break in the forest, and the return of the party with the stags they have killed.

Contents
halt for lunch -- Deerstalking, a contribution from 3 guns -- Deerstalking, a day's stalking by W.L. Winans Esqr.
