Biography
Work's interest in automobiles started early in his life, when he delivered cars from San Francisco to Pacific Grove to his father's auto agency and garage. He collected automobile manuals, magazines, auto show brochures, and books.

Scope and Content
Collection consists of automobile and racing magazines, auto show brochures, promotional booklets, technical manuals, books, clippings, catalogues, maps, time tables, and ephemera collected by Stuart A. Work. Among the magazines in the collection are American automobile digest, Autocar messenger, Chalmers clubman, Horseless age, Motor, Pierce-Arrow news, and Saxon days. Book titles in the collection include the following: The Studebaker book of prominent buyers (1911), Barney Oldfield's book for the motorist (1919), Keeping up with Lizzie (1911), What every woman should know about an automobile (1932), and Smash hits of the year: book of street and highway accident data (1940).

Organization and Arrangement
Arranged in the following series:
1. Magazines.
2. Racing magazines and programs.
3. Auto shows.
6. Map books and time tables.
7. Miscellaneous.

Indexing Terms
The following terms have been used to index the description of this collection in the library's online public access catalog.
