Biography

Singer Ella Fitzgerald was born April 25, 1917 in Newport News, Virginia. She sang with the Chick Webb Orchestra from 1934 to 1939 and was a recording artist for the Decca and Verve labels. Fitzgerald's numerous recordings include the eight "Songbook" albums made from 1956 to 1964 featuring the music of Cole Porter, Rodgers and Hart, Irving Berlin, George and Ira Gershwin, Duke Ellington, Harold Arlen, Jerome Kern, and Johnny Mercer. She won many awards, including 12 Grammys. Ella Fitzgerald died June 15, 1996 in Beverly Hills, California.

Scope and Content

This collection consists primarily of published sheet music collected by singer Ella Fitzgerald. Also present are fourteen publicity photographs of Fitzgerald, a small amount of correspondence and notes, and published songbooks.

Series 1. Sheet music. 1897-1991 .

Scope and Content

Sheet music is mostly published, with a small number of reproductions. Some copies are incomplete. Dates are those of first copyright listed.

The bulk of sheet music is arranged alphabetically by song title, which appears to be how Fitzgerald organized most of her music. Folders of sheet music kept together, usually for a particular musical, have been retained and are located at the end of the series.

Some items are lightly annotated, possibly by Fitzgerald; several have notes from composers.
