Biography

Motion picture posters have been used to publicize movies almost since the beginning of the film industry. Poster designs have become permanently associated with the films they promote, often acting as symbols of the films for collective memory. Frequently film posters outlive their intended marketing purpose and assume the role of iconic images in film history and culture at large. (Based on: The origin and development of the American moving picture poster by Gary Don Rhodes; Film History: An International Journal, Volume 19, Number 3, 2007)

Scope and Content

The collection consists of film posters dating from ca. 1924 to 1996, with the bulk of the collection dating from the early 1950s-1996. The collection consists of posters for primarily American released films and includes 1,200 plus film titles. The posters represent a variety of film genres which were produced by various studios including Columbia Pictures, 20th Century Fox, MGM, Paramount, Universal, United Artists, and Warner Brothers, among others.

Organization and Arrangement

Arranged alphabetically by film title.
