Descriptive Summary

Title: Poul and Karen Anderson papers

Date (inclusive): 1925-2018

Date (bulk): 1950-2010

Collection Number: MS 040

Extent: 52.5 linear feet(73 boxes)

Repository: Rivera Library. Special Collections Department.
Riverside, CA 92517-5900

Abstract: The collection consists of the personal and professional papers of science fiction and fantasy authors Poul and Karen Anderson. These materials document the writing and publishing process and their involvement with the science fiction community and other organizations such as the Society for Creative Anachronism and Sherlockiana groups. Items in the collection include correspondence, manuscript drafts, notes, diaries, personal records, artwork, memorabilia and ephemera from various conventions and events.

Languages: The collection is primarily in English with a small amount of materials in Danish.

Collection Scope and Contents

The materials in the collection primarily start in the early 1950s and span through the death of Poul in 2001 and Karen in 2018. There is extensive material pertaining to Poul's writing career as well as research and background materials that supported it. There are also materials related to Karen's writing that includes poetry, short stories, co-authored works with Poul, and plays and folk operettas that she wrote or staged. The collection documents the Anderson's broader involvement with science fiction fandom (primarily fanzines and convention materials), the Society for Creative Anachronism, and Sherlockiana groups. Notable correspondence includes a lengthy exchange between Poul and Karen in 1952-1953, letters from Robert Heinlein in the early 1960s, correspondence from Anthony Boucher to Karen Anderson, and letters between Karen and Astrid and the cast and creators of Star Trek in the 1960s. The collection includes a significant quantity of art, memorabilia, and awards.

Biographical

Poul Anderson was born in Pennsylvania in 1926 to an American father and a Danish mother. They lived in Texas until the death of his father in late 1937. After some time traveling and a year and a half living in the Washington, D.C. area, Poul, his brother, and his mother settled in Minnesota in 1939. Poul attended the University of Minnesota where he graduated in 1948 with a degree in Physics. His first story was published in 1947 and he went on to have a prolific and successful writing career. He was the President of the Science Fiction Writers of America from 1972 to 1973 and was named a Grand Master in 1997. His works were widely recognized across the profession and fandom, winning 7 Hugo awards, 3 Nebula awards, a John Campbell Memorial award, and more. Poul's writings encompassed most of the speculative spectrum including hard and soft science fiction; fantasy, folklore, and mythology; and alternate and future history. His writing was consistently informed by his love and knowledge of science, his Scandinavian heritage, as well as mythology and history. Poul passed away in 2001.

Karen Kruse was born in 1932 in Kentucky. She became involved with theater and acting in high school and discovered science fiction fandom after her family moved to Washington, D. C. Karen joined the Washington Science Fiction Association in 1952, started publishing fanzines, and attended her first Worldcon in Chicago. She was a frequent convention attendee and active participant in costume competitions. Karen is credited with the first intentional usage of the term "filk music" and wrote and staged a number of plays, musicals, and filk operettas, perhaps most notably "H.M.S Trek-a-Star." Karen's writing career included short stories and poetry, a number of fanzines, and she co-authored several books with Poul.

Poul and Karen met in 1952 at Worldcon in Chicago and they continued their relationship through correspondence for the next year with Karen living in Washington, D. C. and Poul traveling in Europe. They were married in 1953, settled in Orinda, CA and their daughter, Astrid, was born in 1954. The Anderson family was a staple of the science fiction and fantasy communities for many decades. Beyond science fiction and fantasy the Andersons participated in Sherlockiana groups and were founding members of the Society for Creative Anachronism.

Series 1. Fiction Manuscripts 1950-2013, undated

Scope and Contents

This series contains five sub-series that include manuscripts, drafts, galley proofs, and artwork for fictional works by Poul Anderson, Karen Anderson, works they collaborated on, and some pieces in which the author(s) are not identified. Also included is one sub-series containing publishing contracts; these are primarily related to Poul's works with one folder pertaining to Karen's work.

Arrangement

The sub-series that make up this Fiction Manuscripts series are arranged primarily by extent, from largest to smallest. The Publishing Contracts sub-series does not follow this pattern and was placed at the end as it refers to the materials in the sub-series that preceded it.

The contents of each sub-series are arranged alphabetically.

Biographical
The Amateur Press Associations were groups that collated material created by their members and distributed publications by a central mailer or distribution manager. APA-F and APA-L were focused on science fiction content. The APA publications often contained many other fanzines within the individual issues so any given fanzine title might have both its own volume/issue number and an APA issue number.
