Biography
Born August 3, 1930 in Tulare California, Esteban Villa is a nationally renowned Chicano artist and muralist. He is considered one of Sacramentos most respected artists. Villa is also known as one of the founding members of the Royal Chicano Air Force, an artists cultural collective created amidst the Chicano movements battle for social and political rights and recognition.
Villa describes himself as a muralist, printmaker, art educator and community activist. His work sometimes contains surrealist elements through his inclusion and references to such things as the flying jalapeo, flying burrito brothers, and tortilla art. The use of the religious iconography of La Virgen de Guadalupe and El Dia de los Muertos ground him well within the creative Chicano lexicon. Though his works can easily be categorized with the mainstream of fine art, he once stated, Chicano artists do Chicano art. Call it fine art if you like. The Chicano artist brings this iconography to your attention. If we don't do it, no one else will.
Some of Villa's most recognized works and exhibitions have included "La Super Chicana", "La Arte Cosmica de Esteban Villa", "Los Olvidados" (the homeless), "Menudo Eaters", "Portraits", and murals at Southside Park, The underpass to Old Sacramento, and Macy's Parking Lot (downtown Sacramento).
Villas teaching career began in 1962. He started teaching at the high school level and then took assignments at Washington State University, D-Q University, and University of California, Davis. He is currently Professor Emeritus at California State University Sacramento. He has served as an art consultant to many schools and organizations such as The Royal Chicano Air Forces (RCAF) Centro de Artistas Chicanos, and has done art programs in the prison system. Villa's work is frequently shown in Sacramento at the Crocker Museum, Galera Posada, and Luna's Cafe. Villa can also be found occasionally performing as a singer and guitarist. The Sacramento Bee once called Villa, an extraordinary man: a mural artist, musician, teacher and community leader who is known for his barrio art.
In addition, Villa was involved in the production of "Pilots of Aztlan", a video documentary about the Royal Chicano Air Force, where he appears along with other RCAF members. The documentary was originally aired in January 1995. Villa was involved in the planning of a mural developed by the schoolchildren of Freeport Elementary School and the Sacramento Metropolitan Arts Commission on the Freeport Elementary School site in the Spring of 1995.
