Acquisition Information
Biographical Note
Lou (Louis S.) Cannon was born in New York City on June 3, 1933. He is an American journalist, non-fiction author, and biographer of Ronald Reagan. He was raised in Reno, Nevada and attended the University of Nevada, Reno, and San Francisco State College. He was state bureau chief for the San Jose Mercury News in the later 1960s, while Reagan was Governor of California. In 1972 he began working for the Washington Post as a political reporter. He became senior White House correspondent for the Washington Post during the Reagan administration and also wrote a weekly syndicated column. In addition to his several works on Ronald Reagan, which are the main focus of this collection, he is the author of Official Negligence: How Rodney King and the Riots Changed Los Angeles and the LAPD (1997).

Interviews
Ronnie and Jesse [Unruh] (1969)

Scope and Content
Note that several of the file titles are chapter titles from the book Ronnie and Jesse: A Political Odyssey. Garden City, New York: Doubleday, 1969. "This was Cannon’s first book, written in Sacramento in 1968 and published by Doubleday in 1969. It is a dual biography of Reagan, then governor, and of Assemblyman Jesse Unruh, then the powerful Democratic speaker of the Assembly, known as “Big Daddy.” This book was acclaimed by New York Times reviewer John Leonard as “the best book on state government,” and is highly valued by a number of California historians.” Files mainly include articles and newspaper clippings, along with memoranda, notes, and related materials. 3 cartons.

Interviews - R&J

Scope and Content
From LC: “contains an important set of ... interviews, many of them with persons who are now deceased. A number of these interviews were primitively transcribed on Western Union paper, on which Cannon (who then worked for the San Jose Mercury-News) typed his stories. Among the interviews are two with Reagan and two with Unruh.” Includes transcripts, notes, questions, and observations. Most are not dated, but were conducted ca. Sept. 1968-Jan. 1969, most during Sept.-Nov. 1968. Some interviews were taped, but current existence of tapes is unknown.

Interviews: Reagan (book) and Governor Reagan

Scope and Content
Interviews prior to Jan. 21, 1982, were for Reagan (the book). These interviews may include a small sprinkling of material drawn from interviews conducted for The Washington Post, for which I worked from 1972 to 1998. Interviews done after Jan. 21, 1982, were for Governor Reagan: His Rise to Power. The interviews italicized in this index were conducted by my Washington Post colleague David Hoffman or by Robin Gradison, a researcher, and are so noted. The interview of David Gergen and Ed Dale was conducted jointly by Hoffman and me. At the back of the second box of these interview is a useful 76-page compendium of material, with appendices, compiled by Jack B. Lindsey, the first legislative secretary to Governor Reagan. It is in loose-leaf form and titled, Ronald Reagan: The First Year. Mr. Lindsey has given permission as of this date for it to be included with this material and quoted as necessary with attribution to him. --Lou Cannon, Sept. 25, 2008. Interviews by other institutions are open, subject to restrictions noted by those institutions and may not be copied without written permission from those institutions. All rights remain with those institutions.
