Scope and Content of Collection

The Chicano Studies Institute records contain materials from the early operations of the Institute (formerly the Center for Chicano Studies). The Institute's main focus was and continues to be to work with the Department of Chicano Studies to "undertake, promote, and disseminate research."

Arrangement

The Chicano Studies Institute records contains six series:

Series I: Administrative Files, contains budgets and other financial information, documents about the creation and function of the Center, files on related groups and other materials. Most materials arranged chronologically; miscellaneous/subject files arranged alphabetically.

Series II: Research & Projects, contains grant proposals, research data, etc. relating to research projects conducted by Center faculty/staff/students. Files arranged alphabetically by main researcher's name or research project subject/title.

Series III: Programs, Conferences & Events, contains files mainly on the Center's Special Student Services program, and files on the Bilingualism Seminar conducted in Mexico for several years. Also contains files on visiting lecturers sponsored by the Center, performances and art exhibits, etc. Files arranged by subject and/or chronologically. See also Series IV for correspondence relating to the Bilingualism Seminar.

Series IV: Correspondence, contains incoming and outgoing correspondence of the Center, related to programs, research, formation, etc. Materials arranged chronologically. Correspondence relating to the Bilingualism Seminar arranged separately as received from the Center, however related correspondence can also be found in the Center's general correspondence files.

Series V: Audio, contains cassette tapes mainly of conferences and lectures by people associated with or invited by the Center.

Series VI: 2017 Addition, contains annual reports, background on Institute, affirmative action, etc. Also contains one oversize box with posters and news clippings, as well as one box of photographs.
