Scope and Content of Collection

Student research notebooks and outgoing professional correspondence from the UC San Diego laboratory of molecular biologist and Research Professor E. Peter Geiduschek. The great majority of the collection consists of student and researcher data and notes created in Geiduschek's lab, removed from three-ring binders. The remainder of the collection includes: Geiduschek's own notebooks; correspondence (both a chronological file of outgoing correspondence from Geiduschek's lab, and an alphabetically-arranged series of other professional letters); a small series of assorted lecture, seminar and symposia notes; a series on Geiduschek's activities at UC San Diego; and a small number of subject files. The collection documents the research activities of persons in Geiduschek's laboratory, his professional communications with colleagues, and to a lesser extent, his role as a faculty member at UC San Diego Division of Biological Sciences.

Arranged in six series: 1) STUDENT NOTEBOOKS, 2) GEIDUSCHEK NOTEBOOKS, 3) CORRESPONDENCE, 4) LECTURES, SEMINARS AND SYMPOSIA, 5) UC San Diego, and 6) SUBJECT FILES.

Biography

E. Peter Geiduschek received his Ph.D. from Harvard University. He was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship and has served on the editorial boards of several scientific journals. Dr. Geiduschek is a member of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and is also a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Academy of Microbiology. He is a Research Professor and Distinguished Professor Emeritus at UC San Diego.

Geiduschek came to UC San Diego in 1970 and has stayed for the duration of his career. From his faculty profile on the UC San Diego Division of Biological Sciences website:

"The central theme of my research has been the enzymology of gene regulation, specifically of transcriptional regulation and its principal focus has been on fundamental mechanisms, approached from a molecular genetic and biochemical perspective. It is now widely appreciated that the transcriptional apparatus of all cells (archaeal, bacterial and eukaryotic) has common evolutionary roots. It follows that transcription-regulatory mechanisms should also share certain broadly similar mechanistic features. In that spirit, my laboratory worked in parallel with bacteria and their viruses, with eukaryotes, and with archaea."

Acquisition Information

STUDENT NOTEBOOKS
Scope and Content of Series

Series 1) STUDENT NOTEBOOKS: Student and researcher data and notes created in Geiduschek's UC San Diego laboratory, removed from the original three-ring binders. Names and date ranges were transcribed from the binders during processing and recorded as folder titles. Oversized pages were relocated to a flat box. This is the largest series in the collection, representing 85 percent of the total amount of material.

Scope and Content of Series

Series 5) UC SAN DIEGO: A fairly small and non-exhaustive series with some materials documenting Geiduschek's activities, outside his research laboratory, at UC San Diego. This includes a small amount of papers relating to administration, teaching, and planning in the Division of Biological Sciences, including his Chairmanship in 1994; and a number of files on grants for which he was the principal investigator.
