Abstract: Winifred Smith was the coordinator of Field Instruction and a lecturer in the School of Social Welfare at the University of California, Los Angeles, during the 1960s and 1970s. The small collection consists of copies of Smith's lectures and unpublished papers in the field of social work, in addition to those of other authors and lecturers. Subjects range from psychiatric consultation in social work agencies to models for field instruction; and curricula design in schools of social work. Included in the papers are two folders of correspondence, agendas, and ephemera related to the Western Conference on Curriculum Design for Social Welfare Administration-- a conference jointly sponsored by the University of Southern California and the University of Washington, Seattle. It was the first of its kind and held in May of 1976 in San Francisco.
