Abstract: The Rancho Los Amigos Hospital began in the late 1880's as the Los Angeles County Poor Farm. For over a century, the Rancho's mission has evolved, first as a hospital for indigents and then as a center for rehabilitation for chronic diseases. The papers in this collection chronical this development. Included are administrative and financial records, internal and external publications generated by Rancho staff, retrospective and historical accounts, oral history tapes, blueprints, plans, and similar material. The collection includes large numbers of photographs, both of staff members and therapeutic techniques. Likewise, there are many films and audio-recordings on issues involving.physical therapy and rehabilitation.

Purchase of Rancho (Privatization proposal) 60412 1977Staff Publications 60171*Scope and Contents note

The first subseries of this series is a resource file maintained by the Rancho to keep track of staff publications. A numbering system was used for the early reprints, which is detailed in the Affeldt transmittal letter contained in that subseries (Box 23, file 31). The second subseries includes non-print staff productions. Provenance of the latter is often uncertain.
