Historical note

The Pepperdine Ambassadors Council (PAC) is a group of undergraduate students at Pepperdine University who serve as a link between the student body of Seaver College and the greater Pepperdine community. The group is comprised of students who feel passionately about helping Pepperdine fulfill its mission and attain ambitious goals.

The Pepperdine Ambassadors Council was originally created in 1989 by a group of students who felt a need for greater leadership opportunities as well as the need to give back to the very same institution which supported them. The group, which was originally called the Pep 20, was brought together to serve under the Office of the President. In 1992, the Pepperdine Ambassadors Council was moved from the Alumni Relations Office to University Advancement, where it is today. By redirecting its energies to advancing the University as a whole, the group represents all Pepperdine students at official University events.

Scope and Content

The collection includes scrapbooks, directories, and photographs of past PAC council members at various Pepperdine related events. The materials range in date from 1992 to 2008.
